THE ANNUAL CONVENTION

Of the Womens Christian Temperance Union of Centre County.

WAS HELD IN PETRIKIN HALL

On Thursday and Friday, September 10 and 11—Address of Welcome by Rev. John A. Wood Responded to by Miss Nannie Fisher of Fleming.

STRONG RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED

The 19th Annual Convention of Centre county W. C. T. U. met in Petrikin Hall on the 10th and 11th inst. and was opened by the Pres. Mrs. A. M. Clees, of Philipsburg. After the devotional meeting led by Mrs. L. T. Eddy of Milesburg, the roll call of delegates by the Secretary Mrs. M B. Cross, and the announcement of committees. Rev. J. A. Wood of the M. E. church, welcomed the convention in words so heart felt and cordial, so appreciative of the work of our great organization, it cheered our hearts to hear him and a rising vote of thanks was given to Mr. Wood when he closed.

The response given by Miss Nannie Fisher of Fleming was graceful and truly. Miss Fisher, is one of our workers always in her place, always to be depended upon, a good quality in any one. Reports from the various Unions, were embodied in the report of the County Secretary and showed progress along the lines.

Reports of Superintendents of Evangelistic work, Scientific, Temperance, Instruction, Mothers meetings, Railroad work, Flower Mission, Hospital, Literature and Temperance Light Bearers were given, showing good work had been done, but all regretting that more had not been accomplished for the need is great. "The harvest time is plenteous but the Laborers are few". Why is it so many good christian women are so utterly indifferent to their personal responsibility in this work? Thursday evening the Hall was well filled and the delightful musical program arranged by Mrs. Dr. Thomas Hayes, well repaid those who heard it, The thanks of the Convention are due Mrs. Hayes, Miss Marion Foster, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Schmidt, Miss Mary Barber, of Mifflinburg, Mrs. J. C. Meyer, Miss Edna Meyer, Miss Jennie Harper, Mrs. R. G. H. Hayes, Miss Ella Twitmire and Miss Greib, of State College, for having so graciously contributed to the enjoyment of the day and evening.

The address of Miss Belle Kearney of Miss., a woman whose fine personal appearance and charming manner commanded the attention of her audience from the start was listened to with wrapt attention and pronounced one of the most eloquent and forceful addresses, ever given to a Bellefonte audience. Miss Kearney is a Prohibitionist and firmly believes in being one 365 days in the year, not dropping the one day that counts and stands for a principal, not a fad. She is also an advocate of woman's suffrage, and so are we.

Friday morning, after devotional meeting led by Miss Clara Valentine, the business of the day was taken up. A very excellent paper on "The demand of the hour, a new generation of "Temperance workers needed" was read by Mrs. M. S. Latshaw, of Howard. On motion it was decided to have it published in our State Bulletin. Miss Kearney being present spoke on our need of more aggressiveness in our work, the message is timely "we must ne'er think the battle won nor once at ease sit down."

After Miss Kearney's talk the election of officers was next in order, and resulted in the election of Mrs. A. M. Clees of Philipsburg, County President; Mrs. L. T. Eddy, of Milesburg, Vice President; Mrs. M. B. Cross, Philipsburg, Secretary and Mrs. D. D. Mitchell, Treasurer, we would just add her office is for life, for we have perfect confidence in honesty and ability to fill it.

Friday afternoon was opened by Mrs. M. H. Wilson with devotional services, after which business was resumed. A paper by Dr. Edith Schad, on "The fallacies of Patent medicines." should cause an arrest of thought along this line, as a majority of the proprietory medicines so freely used, contain a large percentage of Alcohol and an interesting talk by Mrs. E. R. Huston of Clintondale, on T. L. B. work should inspire us all to greater effort in this department. Miss Kearney, gave an instruction with very amusing Parliamentary drill, after which the Rev. Latshaw led in prayer and convention adjourned.

The following resolutions were submitted and adopted :

1st, That we owe our sincere gratitude to our Heavenly Father, in permitting us to assemble for our mutual benefit.

2nd, That as the newspaper constitutes the forum before which all public questions are discussed, we urge our unions to avail themselves of the kindly courtesies which many of our papers extend towards us and to keep before the reading public, matters of interest and importance connected with the reforms which we advocate.

3rd Resolved That as a society whose motto is for God and Home and Every Land, and believing as we do in the purity of the home. We urge our women to work by petition and letters to our Senators to use their influence and vote to expel Senator Smoot of Utah, if after investigation, he is found to be a Polygamist.

4th, Resolved That we agitate most strenuously that manual training and Domestic Science be made a part of the curriculum of our Public Schools.

5th, Resolved That we hail with delight the action of Elisha Kent Kane, of Kane, Pa., a man of wealth one who recognizes that he is "His brothers keeper" who has discontinued the sale of tobacco in any shape or form from his three large stores giving as his reason that he is unwilling to take money honestly earned and give worse than nothing in exchange for it. All honor to such a man.

6th, That we are in hearty accord with all organizations whose object is the extermination of the saloon and the suppression of the liquor traffic.

7th, Resolved That as Miss Kearney, declared Petrikin Hall, to be the most beautiful building owned by the W. C. T. U., in this country, we urge our women to help free it from the debt resting upon it.

8th, Resolved That the thanks of the Convention are due to Mrs. Thomas R. Hayes whose fine musical program added so materially to our meetings, and to each and all of the kind friends who assisted her, also to Mesdames Kurtz and Allison for the beautiful floral decorations and to all who in any way contributed towards the pleasure and success of this convention.

MRS. PARKER,

The Renewal a Strain.

Vacation is over. Again the school bell rings at morning and at noon again with tens of thousands the hardest kind of work has begun, the renewal of which is a mental and physical strain to all except the most rugged. The little girl that a few days ago had roses in her cheeks, and the little boy whose lips were then so red you would have insisted that they had been "kissed by strawberries," have already lost something of the appearance of health. Now is a time when many children should be given a tonic, which may avert much serious trouble, and we know of no other so highly to be recommended as Hood's Sarsaparilla, which strengthens the nerves, perfects digestion and assimilation, and aids mental development by building up the whole system.

Smith—Johnson Nuptials

A quiet but very pretty home wedding was celebrated Thursday evening at 7 o'clock at the home of the groom's grandparents at Rock View. The contracting parties were Charles Smith, of Rock View, and Miss Lizzie Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Johnson of Bellefonte. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Salter, the Methodist minister at Pleasant Gap,

Quite a number of guests were in attendance and many valuable presents were received.

Both the bride and groom are quite well known throughout this section and their many friends will wish them abundant happiness and prosperity in their voyage on the sea of matrimony.

Of Interest to Trout Lovers.

The department of fisheries at Harrisburg is now ready to receive applications for blanks for trout fry for spring delivery. All applications must be filled out and returned to the Harrisburg office before January 1st. No application will be received for any fish excepting for those to be placed in free or public streams.

CENTRE COUNTY VETERANS

Held Their 29th Annual Reunion and Picnic.

ON SATURDAY SEPTEMBER 12

On the Picnic Ground at Pine Grove Mills There Were 5000 People in Attendance.

FULL REPORT OF THE DOING

The 29th annual re-union of the Centre County Veterans Club was held in the grove at Pine Grove Mills on Saturday September 12 and proved a most delightful event, The day was fair but a trifle warm and the attendance is estimated at 5000 people.

The people of Pine Grove Mills are noted for their hospitality and that is the reason so many picnics are held there. The town and grounds were beautifully decorated.

The first meeting of the day was held at 11 o'clock and was called to order by Capt. W. H. Fry, chairman of the committee of arrangements. Rev. Heckman offered prayer and Rev. C. T. Aikens made the address of welcome.

The officers for the ensuing year wer then elected as follows : President, Gen. James A. Beaver; Vice President Capt. W. H. Fry; 2nd Vice President, W. C. Patterson; Treasurer, Capt. Geo. M. Boal; Secretaries, W. H. Musser and S. B. Miller.

After this dinner was announced and if you did not get enough to eat it was your own fault as there was enough good things left over to feed just such another crowd. Everyone was made to feel at home the villagers and those living near by out did themselves with their hospitality.

The State College band and a drum corp headed by Al Roberts, who saw service in the war, furnished excellent music for the old boys who were busy all day spinning yarns and fighting the battles of the war over again.

The after dinner train brought Gen. Beaver and his staff from Bellefonte.

After General Beaver had greeted the boys and the band had dispensed its sweetest selections, he took a firm hold of the meeting in his apt way. He made some remarks in regard to the fine Pine Grove weather and briefly responded on the part of Veteran Club to the address of welcome delivered bw Rev. C. T. Aikens.

The report of the committee on place of meeting for next year reported in favor of Hunters Park and it was unanimously decided to hold it there.

Comrade Richard Price of the 81st Regiment P. V. I., was introduced and made the first talk to the boys, Some of them he had not met since the war. He made some good hits and brought applause.

John A. Daley of Co. A; 45th P. V. I., recited an interesting poem for the boys, which made a hit.

Judge and Comrade John G. Love of the 5th P. V. cavalry was the next speaker. He gave a stirring talk full of patriotism and valor.

Col. Austin Curtin took the stand for a few minutes and in a neat cut speech moved that a vote of thanks be extended to Capt. Fry and his assistants for the elegant arrangements, the citizens for their hospitality and the speakers for their interesting addresses and to A. G. Archey for the use of the grove.

Dr, H. C, Holloway of Bellefonte, was the next speaker. Though not a soldier he was at the battle of Gettysburg and related many incidents of that bloody battle.

Comrade D. F. Fortney was called for but owing to the lateness of the hour he did not let himself loose.

President Beaver made a report of the Curtin Monument and Soldiers Memorial committee which was rather in favor of buying the A. G. Curtin residence at this place and turning it into a memorial hall.

Comrade Patterson moved that a joint committee of the Ladies Rebecca Daughters of the Revolution meet our committee at the first joint meeting to devise some plan along that line.

The venerable J. J. Gobeen away up in the eighties was present and beat the same old bass drum that he played for Co. E. 45th P. V. I., when that company left for the front over 43 years ago.

The speakers stand and the grounds were beautifully and tastefully decorated for the occasion. Many large flags were suspended over the grounds and banners bearing the word "Welcome" greeted the visitor.

The Penns Valley Lodge I. O. O. F., 276 boys furnished refreshments at reasonable rates and the treasury is the richer by $250. It was the largest gathering for years so the oldest citizens say. It was indeed a red letter day for all who were present.

SESSIONS ENDED.

The Philippine and China War Veterans Change the Name of their Society.

The work of organization was completed at the sessions Friday in Altoona of the Philippine and China War Veterans. The committee on laws recommended that the name of the organization be changed to the Society of American Veterans, and that all comrades who saw service in Cuba, Porto Rico, the Philippines, Hawaii or China, either in the army, navy or marine corps, volunteer or regular, from 1898 to 1903, be eligible to membership. After some discussion the amendment was adopted.

The official uniform of the members of the order will be a plain khaki uniform, shoulder straps of the same material, four pockets, standing collar, staff buttons, leggins and campaign hats. Sailors are to wear the naval uniform of the present date, without any insigna of rank. The executive committee was authorized to secure and adopt a design for a suitable badge, emblematic of the service seen in China, the Philippines, Cuba and Porto Rico.

Officers of the national society were elected and appointed as follows: Commander, Robert S. Hausbury, Philadelphia; senior vice commander, Herbert O. Kelley, Altoona; junior vice commander, George Metzgar, Allegheny City; chaplain, John Longshaw, Philadelphia; adjutant, Thomas J. Bonniwell, Philadelphia; quartermaster, David S. Bassette, Philadelphia; judge, advocate, John P. Teagarden, Waynesburg; historian, C. E. Knighton, Altoona; orator, Alfred Wetzel, Pittsburg; color bearer, Sherman Craig, Pittsburg; drummer, Thomas G. Lott, Philadelphia.

The historian was authorized to collect data and prepare a history of the organization from the time of its origin. It was decided that the next convention will be held in Allegheny City, the 14th, 15th, 16th and 17th of September, 1904.

Brakeman's Miraculous Escape.

Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock as a west bound P. and E. freight train was passing the Lock Haven station, the end sill of an oil car broke down, permitting the forward trucks to run back, thus dropping the front end of the car to the tracks, tearing out several ties. Extra Brakeman Jesse Wertz, of Westport, who was standing on the car, was thrown under the wrecked truck and was pinned down in the hole where the ties had been. He could not be extricated until the car and truck were jacked up and it was feared he was fatally injured. The ambulance was summoned, but before its arrival he was placed in Norman Merrill's hack and taken to the hospital, accompanied by Dr. F. P. Ball. An examination showed that while Wertz was severely squeezed and bruised, his injuries are not serious, and he will no doubt be all right in a short time. His escape from instant death, in the position he was, is regarded as miraculous by the trainmen. When the sill broke down the train became uncoupled at that point, otherwise a far more serious wreck might have resulted.

A Young Prisoner.

The Clinton county jail at Lock Haven this week broke all records for youthful prisoners. The sheriff of Clinton county had the keeping of an extremely diminutive charge, who has been in the world just five weeks. Connected with the child is an unusual story. It seems that the mother of the babe, whose husband was not living with her, died in the Lock Haven hospital when the child was only five weeks old. A brother of the dead woman took the little one to McElhattan. While the McElhattan relatives attended the funeral of the woman the child was secured by the father, who went with a constable to McElhattan. Then he returned to Lock Haven, intending to leave after closing up his affairs. While he lingered the brother of the dead woman got out a writ of habeas corpus in order to get possession of the child, and it is pending a settlement of the case that the sheriff has charge of the baby.

Mysterious Bullets Flight.

While the family of John Irwin, of Fairfield Center, Lycoming county, were sitting at the supper table on Thursday evening, the 7-year-old boy was shot in the hand by a bullet. He was hurried to Montoursville, where Dr. VanHorn was obliged to amputate his index and second fingers. The injury is very serious, but the boy will in all probability completely recover. The mystery of the bullet's flight is still practically unsolved. It crashed through the window in the dinning room while the family were eating supper, splintering the pane of glass and striking the little boy on the hand,

AN ELECTRIC RAILWAY!

Bellefonte to Have Such a Luxury in Near Future.

PRELIMINARY SURVEY STARTED

Line Will Extend from Milesburg to the Fish Hatchery and Pleasant Gap With a Side Line to Coleville—Backed by Energetic Business Men.

MEANS MUCH TO BELLEFONTE

As foreshadowed in the REPUBLICAN several weeks ago, Bellefonte and vicinity are to have an electric street railway. When we first made the statement we were a little skeptical ourselves especially as it was received on all sides with ridicule, but we are glad to say now that the statements we are about to make have something tangible to rest upon.

The writer had an interview Monday afternoon with the men who are back of the street railway scheme and feels convinced that they are energetic, substantial men, who are in earnest about the matter and mean business from the word go.

The company is known as the "Bellefonte Electric Railway Company" and they received a charter from the state about 18 months ago. Monday E. C. Poorman, of Tyrone, the well known promoter of street railway projects, accompanied by F. W. Bedford, of Wilmington, Delaware, chief engineer of the new company and a man of wide experience along such lines of work, were in Bellefonte, and in company with Col. Wilbur F. Reeder, who is local attorney for the company, drove over the proposed route.

The line is to start at Milesburg and extend through Bellefonte to Pleasant Gap, passing through Axe Mann and close to the new State Fish Hatchery. There is also a side line to Coleville in contemplation. The power house will in all probability be located at Milesburg.

Chief Engineer Bedford began the preliminary survey Tuesday which he hopes to have completed by Saturday. The next thing in order is to arrange the right-of-ways and franchises which will take some time.

The road will not be started until all the franchises are obtained, but it is believed the work of construction will begin about March 1st, 1904 and it is possible our citizens may be able to take a trolley ride on the 4th of next July.

Chief Engineer Bedford is being assisted in his work by Will Rees and law student D. L. Zerby.

The Bellefonte Electric Railway Company is made up of men who have had practical experience in the business and are interested in other street railways in the state. Several of our local capitalists are in the company.

It is needless to say that a street railway such as contemplated will be of incalculable benefit to our merchants and business men as it will bring our neighboring towns in closer communication and be for the making of a "Greater Bellefonte."

An industrial concern seeking a location here would demand a bonus of say $25,000 perhaps more and not benefit the town near as much as a trolley line. This company is backed by a sufficient amount of capital and does not ask anything of the town's along the line except fair treatment in regard to the franchises and right-of-way. We have no doubt they will receive the proper encouragement in order that the enterprise may be pushed to success.

Birth, Death and Wedding in One Family the Same Day.

The Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin says :

"It is not often that a newspaper is called upon to record a birth, a death and a wedding in the same family the same day. Such an occurrence, however, is reported from Linden rural free delivery route No. 2.

"On Wednesday, September 2, a child was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Willits. The child died the same day. On September 2, being the same day, Miss Carl Willits, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Willits, and Frank McKane, were married by Rev. Samuel Hamm, the ceremony being performed in the same house in which the birth and death had occurred."

DEATH OF JOHN ANDERSON SR.

Died at His Home on East Bishop Street of Tuberculosis.

It is with extreme regret that the Republican chronicles the death of John Anderson Sr., who before ill health laid its hand upon him was one of our leading business men and who in the time of the country's darkest hour was a faithful soldier. The death angel paid its visit to the Anderson home on East Bishop street Wednesday morning at ten minutes of one and the sufferings of a kind and loving father and friend were at an end. Mr. Anderson had been in failing health for several years, his complaint being tuberculosis.

The deceased was born in Germany August 18th 1843 and was the son of Mathias and Lena Anderson, now dead. When quite young he with his parents emigrated to this country and located at Bellefonte, where later on he engaged in the restaurant business which he conducted very successfully up until last April when he retired and was succeeded by Jesse K. Cox.

Mr. Anderson's record as a soldier is an honorable one. He enlisted April 1861 at Bellefonte, Centre county, Pa., where he than resided, as a private in Co, B, 10th Pa. V. I., being at that time only 18 years old. After three months service, the period for which the company enlisted, he was discharged at Harrisburg, Pa. In February 1863, he re-enlisted at Pittsburg, Pa., in Co K, 91st Pa. V. I., in which he served until the following September when he received honorable and final discharge at Philadelphia.

Returning to civil life, he was married at Pittsburg in 1866 to Miss Kate George, a native of that city, who preceded her husband to the grave about four years ago. This union was blessed with eight children born in the order here named: Emma, wife of W. C. Cassidy, John F., Clara C., George, Catherine, Nellie, wife of John Decker, Carrie and Charles. Of these George and Catherine are now deceased.

John Anderson Sr., was a member of Gregg Post No 95 G. A. R., and of Bellefonte Castle No 357 K. G. E., and of St John's Catholic church of this place.

The funeral will take place Friday morning, There will be mass in the catholic church at 7:30, and short services at the house at 10 o'clock. Interment will be made in the Union cemetery. The Knights of the Golden Eagle will conduct the services at the grave.

Bridge at Spring Mills Inspected.

On petition presented by Attorney General Carson to Judge Wise of the Dauphin County Court requesting the appointment of Inspectors to inspect bridge erected over Sinking creek at Spring Mills, Pa., by the Commonwealth Henry Szlapka, of Montgomery, Pa., John Woodmansee of Wayne, Co., and A. E. Woolridge of Clearfield, Co. Pa., were appointed and appeared and were sworn by M. I. Gardner Prothonotary in company with Mr. Stott Secretary of the board of Public buildings and grounds, County Commissioner Philip H. Meyer and D. W. Woodring went to Spring Mills where they were met by E. O. Thompson State Engineer, William Farris contracting engineer for the Penn Bridge Co., of Beaver Falls Pa. who had the contract for building said bridge and William Bilger who built abutments and placed the bridge thereon. After viewing the bridge they reported it was built in accordance with the plans and specifications and that the abutments were well built having been superintended by assistant State Engineer S. Kline Woodring. In all they said it was a credit to the Commonwealth and the contractors.

Loganton's Octogenarians.

The Sugar Valley Journal says there are five octogenarians living in Loganton as follows: Levi Conser 86, Charles Parker 84, Mrs. Polly Parker 81, Daniel Karstetter 87 and General D. K. Heckman 80. Those who have attained the three-score-and-ten limit are Mrs. William Smith 77, Emanuel Huber 75, John Berry 79, Jacob Kister 78, Sarah Snyder 72, Mary Franz 70.

Making Seamless Shoes.

Charles S. Harman, of Clinton township, Lycoming county, a shoemaker of the old school, a first-class blacksmith and a man who is handy with almost any kind of a tool, 77 years of age, and laboring every day, is just now working out a pair of ladies seamless shoes, which if he is entirely successful, may bring about a revolution in the manufacture of fine foot-wear.

When the revolution broke out th president of the Union mine, which was owned by New Yorkers and run by Americans, ordered a shutdown and decided that things must be left to take care of themselves until the two factions had got through cutting each other's throat. The laborers and subforemen and office staff got away by the last boat descending the river, but through accident the superintendent was left behind. He was missed, and the boat turned back; but, being fired on, she had to resume her course and leave him to take his chances.

The men who knew George Scott best didn't worry much over the situation. He was a man who was always taking chances and coming out on top. The laborers in the mine were always ripe for mutiny, but he had held them in hand without bluster. They noted his quietness and his grimness, and they feared him more than if he had talked and threatened. They said to each other that a devil lurked under his placid demeanor and if that devil was ever aroused it would demand blood.

Scott didn't set out for a forty mile tramp through a tropical forest when he found that he had been left behind. He simply settled down to stay on and receive visitors and dispense such hospitalities as the situation afforded. Neither of the belligerent factions was likely to disturb him for a week or so, but other callers might drop in any day.

Pedro the Devil was abroad in the land. Pedro was the leader of a guerrilla band. He was a robber and a murderer in peace; he was a pretty fair specimen of a fiend when war was on. He had not acquired his title in a day. On the contrary, it had not come to him until he had shot, hanged or cut the throats of 200 or 300 prisoners. He was not at all particular in his killing. Everything was fish that came to his net, be it an American, an Englishman, a German or one of his own countrymen.

Pedro had a way about him. It was a suave, slick, oily way. He interrogated his prisoners with a grin on his face, and he sent them to their death with a smile that was bland. He prided himself on his suavity. Pedro's band had been heard of within twenty miles of the mine on the morning of its abandonment, and it could be safely figured that he would look in on the Union before leaving for other fields. He might find no throats to cut, but there would be considerable plunder and opportunity for destruction. Pedro knew the power of blasting powder and had used it with great success to blow down stone walls and to blow open iron doors.

Scott went to work with pick and shovel and dug many holes on the level ground in front of the stone office building. He was at this work all day long. Every hole received a deposit after being dug to a certain depth and was then covered up again. Copper wires connected one hole with another, and then a signal wire was led into the stone house and connected with an electrical battery.

It was sundown before he had finished his labors, and he ate his supper and smoked a couple of cheroots and waited for Pedro the Devil. Pedro was taking things easy a dozen miles away. He had a church to blow up in case the priest failed to raise ransom money, and there were half a dozen prisoners to be done to death in different ways. Being thus employed and not knowing that any one was waiting at the Union to interview him, he did not arrive until 3 o'clock p. m. the next day. He had forty of his cutthroats with him, and he smiled one of his blandest smiles when he saw Scott sitting alone in the open door of the office building. The smile grew blander as he advanced alone and greeted the superintendent with:

"Senor Scott, I take it that the mine has been closed down on account of the war and that all the people have left but you?"

"You take it correctly," was the quiet reply.

"And your mission is to guard the mine, to keep intruders at a distance?"

"You've hit it, Pedro. I have been expecting you and your murderers all day, and now that you have finally shown up let us have a plain understanding. I am here to defend this property. I have a strong fort in this house, and I have a Winchester rifle and plenty of ammunition. Don't try any of your little games here if you want to keep a whole hide."

"The senor American is inclined to speak plainly," said Pedro as blandly as an auctioneer, "and I will match him. My men are tired out just now with their long march, but two hours later—say at 5 o'clock—we will do you the honor of calling upon you in a body. For supper, in case the senor is hungry, I promise him a novelty—his own ears roasted to a turn."

"They call you Pedro the Devil," replied Scott as he looked the fellow straight in the eyes, "but I believe you to be a bluffer. You are talking through your hat, as we say at home, but it won't work. If you and your cutthroats desire to take 5 o'clock tea with me, please be punctual. The tea will be ready. I think we have reached an understanding."

"The senor is correct. It shall be 5 o'clock to the minute, and I shall hope to get a couple of hours of amusement out of the senor later on. Adios till 5."

With that same bland smile playing over his face the guerrilla turned and walked away and was soon out of sight in the thickets. Scott could have filled him with lead as he went, but he made no move to do it. Pedro had trusted him. In return he trusted the guerrillas—that is, he continued to sit in the open door until his watch told him that it was a quarter to 5. They could have crept up and shot him as he sat, but he neither saw nor heard of them. When he had barred the door he sat down with his hand on the key of the battery and looked out of a window. At ten minutes to 5 he seemed to be the only living man for miles around. At five minutes to 5 the birds ceased their songs, and the insects in the thickets were strangely quiet.

Pedro the Devil understood the hour and the moment. Punctually at 5 his band broke out of the thickets twenty rods away, he leading, and with yells and cheers they rushed the house.

"Tea is ready!" whispered Scott to himself as he realized the crisis, and five seconds later he turned the electric current through the wires. It was ten minutes before the cloud of dirt and leaves and smoke blew away and he opened the door and walked out. There was nothing to be afraid of. The dynamite mines had wiped Pedro and his gang off the face of the earth and scattered the fragments to the four winds of heaven.

Water Colder Than Ice.

Water, as we know, expands as it solidifies, and the mechanical theory of heat points to the fact that if the liquid is subjected to external pressure its freezing point will be lowered.

Sir W. Thomson by a pressure of 9.1 atmospheres succeeded in obtaining water 106 degrees F. colder than ice and with a pressure of 17.8 atmospheres 232 degrees F. colder. Mousson by means of an ingenious apparatus invented by himself capable of exerting a pressure of several thousand atmospheres kept water in the liquid state for many degrees below the normal freezing point.

Water, if allowed to remain perfectly still, may become considerably colder than ice and yet not congeal. If, however, it is subjected to the least motion or if a fragment of ice be brought into contact with it it at once crystallizes, and the temperature rises to that of ice.

Despretz by making use of capillary tubes was able to obtain water 20 degrees C. colder than ice. By this method he helped to explain the reason why plants are able to withstand severe frosts without injury. The juices contained in their tissues remain liquid, although considerably colder than ice.

Middle Ages Sanitation.

Greeks and Romans paid special attention to the physical culture of their youth, to public water supplies and baths, and Athens and Rome were provided with sewers early in their history. During the middle ages sanitation received a decided check. Ignorance and brutal prejudice prevailed, and this was the most insanitary period in history. Most European towns were built compactly and surrounded by walls. The streets were narrow and winding and light and air were excluded. The accumulation of filth was frightful. Stables and houses were close neighbors. The dead were buried within the churchyards or in the churches. Wells were fed with polluted water. All conditions were favorable for the spread of infectious diseases, and in the fourteenth century alone the oriental or bubonic plague—the black death of recent historians—carried off a fourth of the population of Europe. The birth rate was much less than the death rate normally. The cities had to be continually repopulated from the country because the people died so rapidly.

Hobbies.

When man realizes the supremacy of the inner sight he will be able to enjoy life's sunny side in larger degree, for he will their see things as they really exist. We are proud to magnify everything in these days of struggle and competition, hence whatever we enjoy or suffer is exaggerated and of short duration, says the Brooklyn Eagle. We are too impulsive and too unstable to appreciate the sweets and comforts of life. It behooves us, then, to study concentration, and this can be accomplished in no more practicable manner than by adopting a hobby of some kind. Yes, a hobby is the thing. It is one of the secrets of real happiness. Did you ever notice that he who harbors a pet hobby or study is less selfish and more communicative than others? This getting away from self is equivalent to rising above the clouds and seeing the sun in all its glory. Of course, the better the hobby the higher will be the aspiration for still finer things.

ADMIRAL COTTON READY

According to Turkish Accounts the Frenzied Population of the Syrian City Has Been Tranquilized.

SULTAN STILL EXPECTS TROUBLE

CONSTANTINOPLE, September 11—United States Minister Leishman has presented a demand to the Turkish government for the dismissal of Reshid Pasha, Vali of Beirut, on the ground that so long as he is retained in office the lives and property of Americans in Beirut are insecure. The porte has not replied to the demand nor has there been any development in connection with other American claims.

The dispatch of Nazim Pasha to Beirut from his post at Damascus is considered to be a preliminary step toward a settlement. According to the latest telegrams, however, the consuls continue to transact their business with Reshid Pasha, vali of Beirut.

Nazim Pasha received an enthusiastic reception upon his arrival at Beirut, a crowd at the railway station cheering him repeatedly. The town was then perfectly tranquil.

Beirut advices received here late Wednesday stated that the uneasiness still prevailed among the Christians there, and that the exodus to the mountains continued, but no fresh disturbances had occurred.

Rear Admiral Cotton confirms the reports that he can land 500 marines and blue jackets from the Brooklyn and San Francisco in case of urgent necessity.

Nothing is known here anent any arrangement made by any other powers for sending warships to Beirut.

Private advices from Kirk-Kilisseh state that while the Turkish regular troops are conducting themselves well, the Albanians are insubordinate and are pillaging and burning villages and are even threatening their own officers when they are ordered not to plunder.

Up to September 7 twenty-seven battalions of troops had been concentrated in the Kirk-Kilisseh district.

An imperial tirade has been issued ordering the repair or reconstruction of the fortifications of Adrianople, Chatalja Erzeroum and the Bosphorus.

BERLIN, September 11.—A dispatch received here from Constantinople says Nazim Pasha has been formally appointed vali of Beirut in place of Reshid Pasha who has been dismissed.

PARIS, September 11.—Advices received by the French foreign office Beirut say that Nazim Pasha, the vali of Syria, is making a thorough investigation of the causes of the recent disorder at Beirut, and that he has given assurances to the foreign consuls that he will severely punish the guilty. Under the circumstances, it is added, the French, British and Italian consuls have decided not to ask for the landing of American marines, as (contrary to the Constantinople advices) the excitement has subsided and the Christian refugees who fled are returning to their homes.

The investigation thus far made into the outbreak has shown that the police participated in looting the shops and houses, the former vali—Reshid Pasha—being unable to control the police.

Semi-Centennial Fair.

The fiftieth annual fair of the Union County Agricultural Society will be held at Brook Park, Lewisburg, September 29th and 30th, and October 1st and 2nd, promises to be the best exhibition ever given by this, one of the oldest fair associations in the state. The grounds and buildings have been improved, the premium list revised and increased, and no expense will be spared to make this semi-centennial meeting a star event. The managers have arranged for some very fine attractions for the daily exhibitions in front of the grandstand. The race track is considered one of the best half-mile tracks in the state, and you can expect some fine trotting this season, as a number of fine steppers have already been entered. A large and spacious grandstand, with private boxes for those desiring comfortable seats during the track events. Excursion rates on all railroads. By sending your name and address to C. Dale Wolfe, corresponding secretary, Bucknell, Pa., you will receive phamphlet containing premium list, purses and all in regard to Union County's Great Fair.

A Puzzle That Puzzles.

We all like to puzzle our brains over things which give certain and strange results, but which we cannot explain. Here's a puzzle that puzzles everybody. Take the number of your living brothers—double the amount, add it to three, multiply the result by five, add to it the number of living sisters, multiply the result by ten, add to it the number of deaths of brothers and sisters, subtracting 150 from the result. The right had figure will be the number of deaths, the middle the number of living sisters, and the left the number of living brothers.

Pinned Down by a Tree.

George Rusk, a lumberman on the Kulp tract, near Loganton, was pinned to the earth by a tree that was blown out of root as a number of lumbermen were on their way to shelter during a storm Thursday of last week. A portion of the tree fell over Rusk's body and fastened him tightly to the ground. His companions in many ways endeavored to release him, but were unable to do so. The man suffered great pain and earnestly besought his friends to release him, and finally the deed was accomplished by sawing and cutting away the portion of the tree that lay immediately over his body.

Tour to the Pacific Coast.

On account of the meeting of the National Bankers' Association, to be held at San Francisco, Cal., October 20 to 23, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company offers a personally-conducted tour to the Pacific Coast at remarkably low rates.

This tour will leave New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, and other points on the Pennsylvania Railroad east of Pittsburg, Wednesday, October 14, by special train of the highest grade Pullman equipment. A quick run westward to San Francisco will be made, via Chicago, Omaha, Cheyenne, and Ogden.

Five days will be devoted to San Francisco, allowing ample opportunity to visit the near-by coast resorts. Returning, stops will be made at Salt Lake City, Colorado Springs, Denver and St. Louis. The party will reach New York on the evening of October 1.

Round-trip rate, covering all expenses for eighteen days, except five days spent in San Francisco, $190.

Rates from Pittsburg will be $5.00 less.

For full information apply to Ticket Agents, or Geo. W. Boyd, General Passenger Agent, Broad Street Station, Philadelphia, Pa.

Reduced Rates to Baltimore

For the benefit of those desiring to attend the annual session of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of I. O. O. F., at Baltimore, Md., September 21 to 26, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell round-trip tickets to Baltimore from all stations on its lines, except Woodberry, Harrisburg, and intermediate stations; Columbia, Frederick, and intermediate stations on the Northern Central Railway; Lancaster, Harrisburg, and intermediate stations, and stations on the Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington Railroad (exclusive of stations south of Townsend, Del.), on September 19, 20, 21, good for return passage until September 28, inclusive, at rate of single fare for the round trip, plus one dollar.

For conditions, and stop-over at Philadelphia on tickets reading through that points, consult ticket agents.

A Western Tragedy in Which a Native of Old Centre Figured.

Our readers will recall having read an account of the daring robbery of the car barn of the Chicago City Railway Company early Sunday morning August 30th, in which four men who were settling up the days business were shot down by the robbers, who secured $3,000 in cash and escaped. One of the two men who was shot and survived was a Centre County boy, William Erdman age 38 of Madisonburg, whose father, John Erdman conducted an extensive business in tanning back in the sixties.

Erdman and three fellow employees were in the business office of the car barn counting the day's receipts when masked robbers opened fire on them through the windows, without a moment's warning. Two of the men fell dead at the first volley one with a bullet in his brain, the other shot through the abdomen. Clerk Biehl and cashier Erdman were left, but the next shots crippled both of them so that they could make no more resistance.

The Chicago Chronicle publishes Erdman's story as follows:

"I was standing at the window counting the money when the first shot was fired," he said. "That was my first introduction to the bandits. I looked up in amazement, unable at first to understand what was going on. I saw a flash and heard the report of a gun at the window, but the men who were doing the shooting were in the dark and I could not see them. By the time I could comprehend the situation the out laws had everyone in the office covered.

"I reached for my revolver and my first impulse was to begin firing at the window whence the shots came. Just then I saw Biehl and Stewart fall and thought of the alarm at my feet. As I stooped to pull it two shots were fired at the cage and one of them struck me in the hip. I fell in a heap on the floor and began tugging at the electric alarm. It seems that it did not work, however, for although there were twenty men in the rear of the barn no one came to my assistance.

"While I was pulling at the alarm I heard another shot in the outer office and then some blows were struck at the wicket which guards my window and at the wall. The next blow was leveled at the door and it flew open.

"As soon as I saw the bandits coming into the room I ceased tugging at the alarm and grabbed my revolver to prevent anyone from entering the cage and getting the money, which was lying in plain view. I had not had time to put it away.

"As I turned over to cover the entrance to the cage with my revolver I saw one of the hold-up men standing in the gate and pointing his pistol at me.

"Drop that," he said. He had me covered and I had to obey.

"Now, get out of here," he commanded. I told him that I was shot and could not.

"Then turn over on your face," he ordered. I turned over, although it gave my wound in the hip an awful wrench to do so, and I heard him grab the money that was lying on the shelf and get out. I was almost crazy with pain and only half-conscious, I guess, for the next thing I distinctly remember was that some men came hurrying into the room and a little later I was carried away. I do not think I could give a description of either of the men, one of whom I did not get a look at. I had just completed tying the paper money into bundles preparatory to counting the whole amount when the shooting began."

Shot and Killed by a Soldier.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sept. 11.—William Crowley, of Monaca, Pa., was shot in the groin by a soldier yesterday at the United States arsenal and he died last night at the West Penn hospital. There have been many thefts of late from the roofs of the barracks and it is alleged that Crowley, with several others, were discovered yesterday removing the copper.

Crowley, it is said, refused to halt when ordered to do so by the soldier and was shot. The United States authorities refused to permit the police authorities to arrest the soldier and the question of his arrest is still unsettled.

A puny child is always an anxiety to the parents. There seems generally no reason why the little one should be weak when it is so well fed. But the fact is that it does not matter how much food the child takes if the stomach cannot extract the nourishment from it. No benefit can be derived from just eating. That is the condition of many a sickly child. The stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition are not doing their work, and the body is really starving. It is little use to give fish foods, like cod liver oil or emulsions, in such a case, because these also have to be digested; they don't strength it. Strength is what the stomach needs Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach, nourishes the nerves and increases the action of the making glands. It is superior to every other preparation for children's use, on account of its body building qualities, and also because it is pleasant to the taste and contains no alcohol, whiskey or other intoxicant. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a valuable aid when the bowels are irregular. They are small. Children take them readily.

ACCIDENTAL ?

The jury returned a verdict of accidental death on the man who fell from the window ledge on which he had fallen asleep. But the death was really due to carelessness which made the accident possible.

There are a great many lives suddenly terminated as a result of carelessness, although the medical certificate may read "heart failure." When a man takes chances with his stomach and neglects the warning symptoms of disease, he is carelessly inviting calamity.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of food, which makes strength. It stimulates the liver, cures biliousness, and removes bilious impurities from the blood.

"I had been troubled with a pain in lower part of my stomach for three years, so severe I thought it would kill me in time," writes Mr. Aaron Van Dam, of (Kensington) 2549 119th St., Chicago, Ill. "I could hardly work; it felt like a big weight hanging on me and got so bad that I had to take medicine. I used Stomach Bitters for a time, but it did no good so I wrote to Dr. R. V. Pierce for advice, which he gave me immediately. I followed his directions, used two bottles of his medicine and was cured. I had a torpid liver which was troubling me instead of cramps (as I thought), so Dr. Pierce told me. I have pleasure in living now; have gained in weight 15 pounds since then."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They do not beget the pill habit.

THE NEW GLASS WORKS.

Bellefonte Business Men Take Steps to Secure This Industry.

In the law office of Col. Wilbur F. Reeder, a most important step was taken Wednesday Sep. 9 looking towards the rebuilding on a larger scale of the Bellefonte Glass Works which was recently destroyed by fire.

This was one of our town's most important industries and its loss was severely felt by our business men. Believing that this industry should be rebuilt, a number of our enterprising men met in Col. Reeder's office at 3 o'clock to discuss ways and means to accomplish this end.

Those present were C. C. Shuey, C. M. McCurdy, Frank Montgomery, Sim Baum, John Knisely, W. L. Daggett, Philip F. Garbrick, Samuel P. Smith Col. W. F. Reeder, Elmer Davis, Joseph L. Montgomery, Joseph Smith and representatives of the press.

C. M. McCurdy was elected president of the meeting and Edward L. Hoy secretary. Col. Reeder explained the object of the meeting, the importance of the industry and the necessity for prompt action. He said the location was an ideal one for a glass works and every facility for the successful manufacture of glass is here. The stockholders of the old company are willing to subscribe $12.000 of the stock and it will take $62.000 to start it properly. So it will be necessary for the citizens to take $50.000 worth of stock in the new company. A modern plant at this place could be made to pay.

Mr. John Knisely set forth the prices and profits of the business. The factory they hope to build is a tank furnace and would employ 160 men. The fire lasts 30 weeks and at the price of glass should yield net earnings amounting to over $8 000.

Samuel P. Smith a practical glass man spoke of the advantage of locating factory here.

Edward L. Hoy, of the Potter-Hoy Hardware Company said the price of glass was 20 per cent higher than it was four years ago.

C. F. Montgomery moved seconded by Mr. Garbrick that a committee of three be appointed to solicit subscriptions for stock in the company.

The motion carried and Mr. McCurdy appointed on that committee Messrs. Frank Montgomery, C. C. Shuey and Edward L. Hoy.

The meeting then adjourned to meet in Col. Reeder's office Wednesday Sept 16 at 3 o'clock.

Not Generally Known.

It is not generally known that the Pennsylvania state law requires a person to stop, look and listen before driving across a railroad track. Unless the provisions are heeded and a person is struck by the cars there is no possibility for securing a judgment for damages in case suits are brought to recover. The courts hold that there was contributory negligence and generally nonsuit the plaintiff before the case is fully tried. This is worthy of notice.

A Hot Fire for Baking Fired the House.

The home of John W. McClain, in Lewis township, Lycoming county, was totally destroyed by fire between 11 and 12 o'clock Wednesday morning, and all the contents were lost. The total loss is placed at $2,500, and there is a small insurance.

Mrs. McClain was baking and had a hot fire going at the time. The blaze started in the roof, but the cause is unknown. There was no one at home to help the woman and the house and contents went up in smoke.

LATEST LONDON FASHIONS.

The Great Vogue of Velvet—Laces More Fashionable than Ever.

LONDON, Sept. 3rd. 1903.

As the clown in the circus says "here I am again!"

I have simply haunted the West End for the last week, and have come to the conclusion that while all new modes are old modes, the modistes have culled the choicest, and the variety is so great that every woman may select her style to suit her own individuality, always avoiding 'manishness' which is no longer smart.

This is the day the truly feminine.

Out door wraps for all occasions, whether they be long, short, or half length, savour of the elaborate and quaint. The sumptuous coat with which milady covers her carriage or evening costume partakes of the picturesque or luxurious.

Capes, single, double and triple pereline shaped, fichu shaped or round, cover the top of the arms in both simple and elaborate wraps.

Brown bids fair to hold the favour it has gained and a brown frock for Autumn is an absolutely safe proposition.

As to fabrics, manufactories are surpassing all former efforts in variety and beauty. Through the courtesy of some of the English Manufacturers I have seen several of the advanced styles.

Some of the new tweeds and woollens are particularly taking and Nonpareil velvet dyed by the Celebrated Worralls, J. & J. M. spells a fabric of beauty in colourings and texture, and the fact that in it every woman may look her best accounts for its great vogue. Never before so fashionable, velvet is a fashion come to stay.

In my illustration I depict an extremely chic and becoming Nonpareil velvet worn by Miss Mary Manneting. It is a warm shade of brown, the coat being a Monte Carlo, and trimmed with Ecru Venise allover lace.

It is the age of comfort in dress—no hoop skirts, no crinoline or wigan, no bustles, no pointed toes, and the corsets, in comparison with those formerly worn, are corsets in name only. No one thinks of lacing, an ample effect in the waist line being more sought for than the delicate wasp-like figure. Dressmakers here, as well as in America, are endeavouring to bring out the straight front modes, an exceptionally successful one being the C B a la Spirite.

Although every sort of lace is used at present, the heavier laces are the most popular. The Cluny and Aotique laces are en regle on almost every style of gown, and on almost every material.

Heavy Irish lace, either in insertion or allover, is used for waists, and the shop windows display a great variety of cuffs, collars capes and stoles of Maltese lace.

Of the fashions more anon—from Paris.

ELAINE ROZE.

Mr. Hiram C. Crosthwaite Called to the Other Shore.

At the home of his son, Dr. D. W. Crosthwaite, 1210 Thrirteenth street, Altoona, at 4:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, Mr. Hiram Carson Crosthwaite died of general debility.

The deceased was born in Penn's Valley, this county, September 3, 1825, and was therefore aged 78 years and 6 days. He was by occupation a blacksmith and followed it all his life. Having moved to Bellefonte early in life he engaged in business with David S. Bollinger and for years they carried on the business of carriage and coach building. He went to Altoona in 1863, entered the service of the railroad company and continued therein until four years ago when he retired.

He is survived by his wife and these children: Mrs. J. E. Wingard, of Columbus, O.; Dr. B. H. Crosthwaite, of Bennington, Kansas, and Dr. D. W. Crosthwaite, of Altoona. Two sisters are also living: Mrs. Susan Kohler, of Yeagertown, Mifflin county, and Mrs. Mary Palmer, of Potter's Mills, this county. He also leaves eleven grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

During almost all his life he was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church. He also belonged to the Pennsylvania Railroad Volunteer Relief Association,

The funeral will take place Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment in Fairview cemetery, Altoona.

The School L w.

The school law requires the regular attendance of all children between the ages of eight and sixteen years unless excused on account of illness; provided, however, that children between the ages of thirteen and sixteen years may be excused from attendance if regularly employed at some useful labor and able to read and write English intelligently.

With the excellent health conditions prevailing, it is expected that all parents will cheerfully comply with attendance requirements and see that their children get the full benefit of the schools throughout the entire term.

THOMAS F. RILEY.

Former Associate Judge Dies at His Boalsburg Home.

Hon. Thomas F. Riley, former Associate Judge of Centre County, died at his home in Boalsburg last Thursday morning at 8 o'clock of a complication of diseases from which he had been suffering all summer.

Judge Riley was a native of Centre county and was 63 years of age. He was an ardent democrat and served in several local offices before he finally became Associate Judge. He with Judge Faulkner of Philipsburg were the last Associate Judges Centre county had. While on the bench he made himself famous by over-ruling Judge Furst in a point of law in the famous Armor will case. During the civil war he served his country faithfully and honorably in the ranks as a soldier. Of late years he has been living a retired life and was considered one of Boalsburg's foremost citizens.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Margaret Riley and the following children, Mrs. Frank Whitehill of Philipsburg, Mrs. Jacob Weber and Edward of Boalsburg.

He also leaves two brothers and four sisters as follows: Wm. in Ohio; Calvin, Mrs. Jane Irwin, Mrs. Sarah Rankin, Mrs. Rebecca Kreamer, of Boalsburg, and Mrs. Margaret Everhart, of Altoona.

He was a member of the Lutheran church and the Grand Army of the Republic. The funeral took place Saturday morning at 9:30 a. m. Interment in the Boalsburg cemetery.

A Young Boy Hunter Shoots his Brother.

A day or two ago while Ellery Bittner and his brother, sons of George Bittner of Beech Creek township, Clinton county, were in the woods near their home playing squirrel hunter, they came across a squirrel that ran into a hollow log. They plugged with leaves the hole the squirrel had entered. While Ellery with the gun kept watch his brother attempted to scare the squirrel out. Ellery mistaking his brother's hat for the game fired. Several grains of shot struck the boy, one on the forehead, one on the cheek and others in the shoulder. A physician removed the shot and found the boys injuries not serious.

In Behalf of Working Girls.

Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch, daughter of Elizabeth Cady Stanton, at a meeting not long ago spoke on suffrage from the point of view of the wage earner. She said:

"The old home employments have come out into the great world of business. Men have organized industry, and transferred the spinning wheel from the chimney corner to the mills. More than half of the cotton workers are women. Legislators are beginning to deal with the age at which women may work, the hours and conditions of women's labor. Some people say women may work, but must have no voice as to the conditions for fear they should be injured by politics. These people remind me of the two Irishmen who went out one night to shoot their landlord. They lay in wait beside the road for an hour and for two hours, but still he did not come. At last one of them put his head out and peered down the road, saying anxiously, 'O Pat, I hope no harm has come to the poor old gentleman!' A similar generous solicitude weighs on the hearts of those, men and women who say that men alone should legislate for working girls."

The September 10 Story Book.

With a decidedly unique and bizarre cover 10 Story Book for September is one of the most fetching things on the news stands. Both artistically and typographically this much talked of little magazine heads all others of its class. Among its leading writers this month are found Elizabeth Phipps Train, Buffalo Bill, William Hamilton Osborne, H. S. Canfield, Rev. Henry M. Wharton and others not as well known but whose work is of equal merit.

"The Brocade from Paris" is a charming little skit by Elizabeth Phipps Train; "Buffalo Bill" writes of "The White Captive." A maiden, scouts, Indians and soldiers, all come in to make a thrilling tale. One of the most humorous stories of the season is William Hamilton Osborne's "The Widow's Weed" in this issue. H. S. Canfield writes of a mad love in a clime where passion ignites as gunpowder, which he calls "Where Love Burns Fiercely."

Rev. Henry M. Wharton, the celebrated evangelist, contributes a sensational and startling conceit called "My Adventure With the Siren." The selected masterpiece for the month is Balzac's remarkable "An Accursed House." (Daily Story Publishing Co., Chicago.)

SOFT CORE

Like the running brook, the red blood that flows through the veins has to come from somewhere.

The springs of red blood are found in the soft core of the bones called the marrow and some say red blood also comes from the spleen. Healthy bone marrow and healthy spleen are full of fat.

Scott's Emulsion makes new blood by feeding the bone marrow and the spleen with the richest of all fats, the pure cod liver oil.

For pale school girls and invalids and for all whose blood is thin and pale, Scott's Emulsion is a pleasant and rich blood food. It not only feeds the blood-making organs but gives them strength to do their proper work.

This
famous remedy does for the stomach that which it is unable to do for itself, even if but slightly disordered or overburdened.
Like a Comet
in the sky comes the star of health to the weak and weary despondent dyspeptic, curing all stomach troubles and digestive disorders.
Kodol
supplies the natural juices of digestion and does the work of the stomach, relaxing the nervous tension, while the inflamed muscles and membranes of that organ are allowed to rest and heal. It cures indigestion, flatulence, palpitation of the heart, nervous dyspepsia and all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying and strengthening the glands, membranes of the stomach and digestive organs.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

A PHYSICIAN HEALED.

Dr. Geo. Ewing, a practicing physician of Smith's Grove, Ky., for over thirty years, writes his personal experience with Foley's Kidney Cure: "For years I had been greatly bothered with kidney and bladder trouble and enlarged prostate glands. I used everything known to the profession without relief, until I commenced to use Foley's Kidney Cure. After taking three bottles I was entirely relieved and cured. I prescribe it now daily in my practice and heartily recommend its use to all physicians for such troubles. I have prescribed it in hundreds of cases with perfect success." C. M. Parrish.

David Adams Dead.

David Adams, a former resident of Centre county, died at his home, 748 West Washington avenue, Tyrone, at 12:20 o'clock Wednesday morning. He had been ailing the past two or three years, but the past twelve months his decline was quite rapid, finally some weeks ago being confined altogether at his home.

He suffered from kidney trouble and a general breaking down of the system, paralysis entering into the complication a couple weeks ago. He was aged 68 years, 8 months and 23 days.

David Adams was the son of David and Letitia Morrow Adams, and was born December 17, 1834, at Allegheny Forge, Centre county, an establishment then owned by the senior Adams. Later the family removed to Clearfield county. On December 24, 1869, the subject of this sketch was married to Mrs. Sarah E. Faber at Pine Grove Mills. Two children were born to the union, one son and one daughter.

The son, Harry S. Adams, survives, and resides in Tyrone. The daughter, Maggie, died at Clearfield a number of years ago. Mrs. Adams also survives, as does John Faber, son to her first husband. He resides in Altoona. Two brothers and three sisters survive Mr. Adams, viz: Oscar, of Philipsburg; James I., of Clearfield; Mrs. Emily Southard and Mrs. E. B. Hartman, of Harrisburg, and Mrs. Godfrey Fisher, of Tyrone.

Fish for the School Rooms.

All the public school children in the state are to be delighted with the constant spectacle of gold fish sporting in every class room if the school authorities shall take advantage of an offer announced recently by Fish Commissioner William E. Meehan. He was in Philadelphia considering offers of sites for the proposed Philadelphia hatchery but that has nothing to do with the children's gold fish of which enough will be forthcoming from the established hatcheries, mainly from Corry.

"We propose," said Mr. Meehan, "to distribute enough gold fish to put five into every public school class room in the state. I mean, of course, that a school room with 20 class rooms will get 100 fish. The chief object is educational, although the aquarious will ornament the class room. The offer is conditional upon the school authorities bearing the expense of the aquariums.

"Although we do not intend to begin supplying the fish until about October 15, we wish applications to be made immediately or as early as possible to the department of fisheries at Harrisburg. The principal of each school is to make application indorsed by the city or county superintendent. The fish will be delivered at the railroad station nearest the school and in order of the application."

Mr. Meehan added that blanks were being printed for applications from all the counties other than Philadelphia for such sets of fish eggs in their various stages as have already been supplied to the board of education of that city for the study of fish embryology.

Warm Time at Victor.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Col., September 14.—Mayor French, of Victor, who was one of those who signed the petition to Governor Peabody for troops, Sunday received a letter threatening his life. He was informed that he had but three days to live. General Bell offered to furnish him military eguard, but this the mayor declined to accept.

ACADEMY NOTES.

The Bellefonte Academy opened on Wednesday of last week under very bright and favorable prospects for the most successful year in point of attendance and scholarship it has ever had. A great many new students have entered the boarding and the day departments from cities all over the state and quite a number from other states.

Bayard H. Sharp, of West Chester, a graduate of State College 1903, arrived Monday to assume his duties as an instructor at the Academy. As has already been announced, Mr. Sharp will have full charge of the athletics at this institution, as he is renowned in foot ball, base ball and basket ball.

Miss Kate Davis, teacher of Modern Languages at the Academy, returned Monday morning from an extended visit through Europe, where she has been traveling the past three months. She reports having had an excellent time.

Thousands of Dead Fish.

Large numbers of fish of all sizes—suckers, chubs, pike and bass—have been floating down the river past this city all day, says Saturday's Lock Haven Democrat, their white sides and bellies easily visible from the shore, while here and there, washed up against the banks by little wavelets may be seen a large fish and many minnows.

It is said that the number of these dead fish seen this forenoon will run into the thousands. What has caused the destruction of the finny tribe is not known unless it is the refuse from manufacturing plants at the head of the river or along its tributaries.

Birthday Party.

On Tuesday evening about twenty of the friends of Miss Sarah Weirick met at her home in Howard and gave her quite a surprise, it being her twentieth birthday. The evening was spent in social games, and as usual an elegant supper was served, which was prepared by her mother.

After supper some very fine instrumental music was rendered by some of the ladies. The boys, John Mokle, Curt Longee and Duke Gladhill, rendered an "elegant" male quartette. At about the midnight hour all departed for their several homes wishing Miss Sarah many more such occasions.—Howard Hustler.

State Secures More Land.

The State Forestry Reservation Commission held a session at Harrisburg this week and made offers to the various owners of about fifty-five thousand acres of land in Lycoming, Tioga, Fulton and Franklin counties. Should the amount offered be agreed upon these lands will become the property of the State for forestry reserve purposes.

—S. T. Moore, of Milroy, and Wm. M. Grove, Esq., of Centre Hill, surveyed the Huyett lands in the Seven Mountains last week for the State. This tract had been purchased by the State some months ago.

—There will be no services held in St. John Reformed church next Sunday except Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. The new pipe organ has arrived and other improvements are being made in the interior of the edifice which necessitate the closing of the church next Sunday.

—The Luther League of the State of Pennsylvania will meet in annual session in the city of Reading, October 20-21, 1903. The convention will be held under the auspices of the Central Luther League of Reading and vicinity.

—The Methodists at Hannah says our Hannah correspondent held a festival recently and everything went off nicely until about closing up time when a lot of rowdies started a drunken fight. The committee should loop such men with the law as this has become to common at Hannah.

—It is ascertained that the new congress will contain forty-seven members who served in the Union army during the civil war and thirty who wore the Confederate gray, making seventy-seven civil war veterans.

—The thirty-third exhibition of the Muncy Valley Farmers' Club will be held on the Hughesville fair grounds September 22, 23, 24 and 25 and the management has spared no effort to make the fair an enjoyable and profitable one.

—Sampson Quiggle Mingle a former Centre Countian died at his home in New York City Tuesday morning. Mr. Mingle was born October 15 1845, in Wayne township, Clinton county, and was the youngest of a family of nine children. His father, Samuel Mingle, was a shoemaker, and removed his family to Penn's valley, Centre county, where he died when Sampson was a little over three years of age. The latter received such an education as four months in each year spent in a country school, afforded, together with one term at the Aaronsburg Academy Center county, where he made the fires and swept the rooms to pay for his tuition. He was compelled to go bare footed seven months in the year, so as to be entitled to one pair of shoes annually. He is survived by a wife and three daughters.

GRANGER'S TENTED CITY

Their 30th Annual Gathering at Centre Hall

BLESSED WITH FAIR WEATHER

Prominent Speakers Are in Attendance and there is a Fine Array of Exhibits—The Midway as Attractive as Ever.

LARGE CROWD PRESENT WEDNESDAY

That the Grangers picnic has lost none of its attractiveness for many of our citizens is manifest by the large number of granger's and their families who are enjoying a week's rest and pleasure tenting at beautiful Grange Park, Centre Hall, and by the large array of exhibits this year, larger than for many years.

It is the 30th annual picnic and exhibition of the Patrons of Husbandry of Centre County. Wednesday and Thursday are the big days and it is estimated that between seven and eight thousand people were present Wednesday with larger prospects for Thursday.

The opening exercises of the exhibition took place on Wednesday morning and were conducted by the Grange officers. Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock there was an address by S. S. Blyholder of Armstrong county. There were also songs and recitations by the young people of the Grange. Wednesday afternoon addresses were delivered by Prof. H. A. Surface, State Economic Zoologist and J. T. Allman, secretary of State Grange.

Thursday's program includes addresses by Hon. W. F. Creasy, of Catawissa; Dr. B. H. Warren, dairy and food commissioner; Hon. Mortimer Whitehead, of New Jersey, Hon. N. B. Critchfield, secretary of Agriculture and Miss Emma Brewer of Delaware.

Every evening an excellent entertainment is given in the Auditorium by the young people of Centre Hall. Thomas J. Moore, manages the evening entertainments while Mrs. Rose Dewoody has the various plays under her care, and Mrs. Helen Grenoble the marches. Mrs. Thomas G. Wilson is the musical director.

The public meetings are in charge of Master of County Grange George Dale and Lecturer James F. Weaver.

The midway is as attractive as ever this year. All that is missing is the Merry-Go-Around.

Among the exhibitors this year may be found M. C. Gephart, Bellefonte; Gable & Co, Altoona; Thornton, Barnes & Co., Philadelphia; Mifflinburg Buggy Company; Vermont Creamery Company; W. B. Krape, Centre Hall; Stoddock Mfg. Company, Dayton, Ohio; G. O. Benner, Centre Hall.

The Pennsylvania State College have an unusually fine exhibit from their Experimental station.

In the Garden and Farm exhibit there are some fine displays of fruits. Among the exhibitors are J. J. Arney, and David Keller Wm. Mingle, M. S. Boone, Edith Ritter, John Alexander, Mrs. Kate Conley, Centre Hall; W. E. Grove and Geo. Dale, Lemont; John Dale, Norman Dale, Edwin Dale, of State College; I. S. Frain, Abdera; Lizzie Weaver, Milesburg; Mrs. Mollie Holt, Fleming.

The finest poultry exhibits are those of Geo. B. Slack, John H. Krane, Centre Hall; Foster Cummings, Linden Hall, J. S. Meyer, Penn Hall.

D. C. Keller conducts an excellent boarding house and John Dauberman the ice cream pavillion.

The picnic will close on Saturday morning.

No Pennies to be Coined.

Philadelphia, September 14.—No more cents are to be made by the United States mint here for at least a year, unless a special order is issued from the United States Treasury at Washington. This is the latest announcement from Washington, due to the enormous production in the last five years, 3,000,000,393 pennies having been shipped from the Philadelphia mint, which is the only one that coins the one cent pieces, to various parts of the country. Between July 1, 1902, and June 1, 1903, 89,600,000 cents were coined.

Hospital Notes.

The following patients were admitted to the Hospital during last week: Mrs. Edward Cowdrick, Mrs. Annie Yeager, Mrs. Geo. Spicer.

Miss Goldie Gates of Loveville who was operated upon two weeks ago for appendicitis by Dr. Sebring returned to her home Monday cured. Mrs. Annie Yeager was discharged. All the other patients are getting along nicely.

—The Altoona machine shops again went on a 55 hour week Thursday, after having worked forty-five per week for several weeks past. Overtime will also be put in force when necessary. The usual Saturday half holiday will continue. The return to the hours of labor which were in force before the reduction is confirmatory of the statement made by company officials when the order for retrenchment was given. It was then stated that when the work would justify it a return to full hours would be made.

Poor Cigars Sold as a Noted Brand.

The arrest of Henry Silberstone, a cigar dealer at No. 283 Bowery, charged with having refilled cigar boxes, marked the beginning of a war that will be waged by the United States Internal Revenue agents against dealers all over the city who have been engaged in similar practices. For some months past a large cigar concern has been greatly annoyed by complaints that inferior cigars were being sold under its label, and notified the revenue agents.

Silberstone is alleged to have bought several boxes of "Cremo" cigars, and after selling the genuine article at the regular price (five cents), refilled the boxes with a cheaper article, which he sold at eight for 25 cents, explaining to his customers that the only difference in the cigars was in the matter of the bands.

The cheap cigar was sold without a label, while the real "Cremos" have bands about them. In this manner Silberstone is alleged to have made a profit of considerably more than 100 per cent. He was arraigned before Commissioner Shields and held for examination before the Federal Grand Jury.

A cigar manufacturer interested in the case, said:

"Substitution of cigars or refilling of boxes has been going on for some time. We have spent thousands of dollars advertising one particular brand of cigars and it is the name of this cigar that has been illegally used.

"The bands were placed upon our goods to protect our customers against just such a fraud. The Federal authorities expect a number more of arrests shortly. There are Federal and State penalties."

Golden Eagles will Gather.

HARRISBURG, September 15—The Supreme Council of the Knights of the Golden Eagle, embracing all the castles of the order in the United States, will hold its annual session in this city, commencing October 12. The feature of the gathering will be a parade in which there will be in line castles from Maine to California.

The Supreme Castle will convene on the 13th, at Pythian Hall, and will continue in session several days. In the evening a public reception will be held. Speeches will be made by Governor Pennypacker, Mayor McCormick and Meade D. Detweiler, former grand exalted ruler of the Order of Elks.

Following the reception there will be a grand ball under the auspices of Harmony Commandery, of this city. On Wednesday the Supreme Castle officers and other visitors will visit the Gettysburg battlefield. The Supreme Council will resume its session Thursday. At the evening session the three degrees will be exemplified by a team directed by Supreme Chief Jenkin Hill, of Reading.

Long Deferred Explanation.

Years afterward the man who refused the anaesthetic and called for his violin, which he played without missing a note while the surgeons were sawing his leg off, was speaking of the incident to a friend.

"I got a good deal of a reputation for bravery out of the affair," he said, "and the papers all praised me up as a hero, but I wasn't anything of the sort. I was afraid of the chloroform, and at first I thought I'd keep the leg and take the chances. Then all at once, I thought of my fiddle. You never heard me play the fiddle did you?"

"No, I never did."

"Well that made the surgical operation just nothing at all. Anybody that could stand my fiddling could stand anything."

—Our supervisors should move in the matter of securing State aid for the making of better roads in some sections of the county.

—William A. Hoover has been appointed postmaster at Pleasant Gap, vice John Griffith, resigned. Mr. Hoover will erect a new building for the office in the upper end of the town, near where it was located before Mr. Griffith moved it.

—We regret to note the illness of the wife of Rev. Dr. Geo. D. Penepacker of Philipsburg formerly of Bellefonte, whose condition is giving the family very deep concern. We hope she may have a speedy restoration to her wonted health.

—Burglars tried to enter the residence of Mr. Oscar E. Miles on Pike street, Milesburg, Monday about 1 o'clock a. m. Miss Odessa Confer heard them drop a window and gave the alarm. Messrs. John Miles and Edward Grove searched the house but failed to find the nocturnal visitors. In a short time the near neighbors gathered around the dwelling but the intruders had made good their escape. Mr. Miles is absent from home and doubtless this was known by the would-be burglars, hence their attempt to rob his home.

—If the weather be propitious next Friday night something new in the line of entertainment will be given by the Methodist Sunday school of this place for the benefit of the music fund. It will be a street fair on the sidewalk adjoining the church and will include an ice cream and cake booth, hot chocolate and candy, peanuts, and popcorn, a dime museum and a grab bag with all its chances. The evening amusements will terminate in a sociable in the Sunday school room to which an admission of 10 cts. will be charged. The Sunday school is the most important branch of the church and every Methodist should at least give presence to this entertainment.

Made Counterfeit Money.

PHILADELPHIA, September 15.—Following closely upon the exposure of gross irregularities in the cigar department of the eastern state penitentiary came the public announcement Sunday that the illegal coinage of minor silver pieces has been carried on by convicts in the big institution.

PHILADELPHIA, September 15.—Later in the night some details of the counterfeiting scheme leaked out. These were to the effect that five men were engaged in the work, the head of the counterfeiters being a Philadelphian now completing his second term for this offense.

The others were professional criminals who secured, through the plumbing department of the prison, the necessary metal made of solder, tin, and ground glass. The moulds, it is believe, were made of plaster paris scraped from the walls of cells. Some of the coins got into circulation, but in what manner has not yet been fully determined. There is a belief that certain employes who did favors for the prisoners, such as mailing letters, in violation of the rules of the institution, were given the bogus money as tips and that they innocently passed it into circulation.

The counterfeiting was discovered the middle of July and stopped, but for some reason it was not made known to the prison inspectors until some time in August.

World's Fair News-Notes.

Spokane county, Washington, has appropriated $5,000 for the collection of World's Fair exhibits. The appropriation is contingent upon the city of Spokane raising a fund of $2,000. City officials say that they will raise the sum in a few days.

The Tennessee anthropology exhibit at the World's Fair will contain the large and valuable collection of Indian relics owned by Gen. John T. Wilder, of Knoxville. This collection is said to be one of the largest and most valuable in the United States.

A rare collection of orchid bulbs from the Philippine Islands reached St. Louis Wednesday. They will exhibited at the World's Fair next year. They are exceedingly rare specimens, many of them never having been seen in America before. They will be kept in the Exposition green houses this winter and will be transferred to the conservatories in the Palace of Horticulture before the opening on April 30 1904.

Novelist Writes a World's Fair Book.

"Out of a Fleur de Lis" is the title of a new book which will be seen in the stores next month, and a sub caption indicates that it is a history, romance and biography of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. The volume is profusely illustrated with scenes on the site and with photographs of prominent workers in the enterprise. The book is divided into three parts, the first, of nine chapters, telling of Louisiana Territory, from the time of De Soto until the purchase by the United States; the second, twenty-five chapters, named "The Swan Girl," being a romance, the characters having being in the World's Fair city; and the third containing word pictures of the men and women who have created this great Exposition. Claude H. Wetmore is the author of this volume and the publishers are W. A. Wilde Company of Boston, who have brought out three of his other books.

Had Not Met for 38 Years.

John F. Bumgardner and his wife, of Shelby county, Ill., arrived in Jersey Shore the other day and hired a team to take them to Mr Bumgardner's sister, Mrs. John A. Martin, living near Linden, and completely surprised her. And it was only after several minutes' conversation between the brother and sister that she recognized him. Most pathetic was the scene when she realized it was her brother, whom she had not seen for 38 years.

The Harvest Moon.

One of the beauties of the skies in September is the harvest moon, which is now full. It is so called on account of the fact that it is harvest month in England. And the moon rising at the same time for several evenings prolongs the day so that workmen can see to work in the fields at night. The sun will reach the quarter early in the morning of the 21th, ushering in the autumnal season.

IN BONDS OF WEDLOCK.

Williams S. Katz and Miss Selina Baum Take Nuptial Vows.

William S. Katz, a rising young business man of this place, and Miss Selina Baum, the pretty daughter of Mr. Abram Baum, were united in holy bonds of wedlock at the home of the bride on East Bishop street Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock.

Owing to a death in the family of the bride the ceremony was not as elaborate as it would have otherwise been but it was none the less pretty and impressive.

Only the immediate families and a few friends of the contracting parties were present when the bride and groom took their positions before Rabbi Henry Kline of Altoona, who performed the ceremony which united them for life.

The bridal procession was preceded by two pretty little flower girls, neices of the bride, namely, Henrietta Hassell and Miriam Riesman. The position of best man was filled by Joseph Katz, a brother of the groom. The bridesmaid was Mrs. Nathan Riesman, of Princeton, Ind., a sister of the bride.

The bride was attired in a becoming costume of light gray crepe de chene trimmed with silk rose applique.

The sweet little flower girls were dressed in white and carried baskets of American Beauty roses.

Mrs. Reisman's costume was black taffeta silk trimmed with silk net and applique.

After the ceremony and congratulations a sumptuous wedding dinner was served and at 1:05 Mr. and Mrs. Katz left for a wedding tour which embraces Washington D. C., Philadelphia, New York, Boston and Niagara Falls.

After September 26th they will be at home to their many friends at the Brockerhoff House.

The only guests present from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Lewisson and son, of Milton, and Mrs. and Miss Goldstein of Lock Haven.

Many beautiful presents were received by the bride. Both young people are held in high esteem by a large circle of friends and this paper joins in the congratulations and good wishes being bestowed upon them.

Road Building By Insane.

NORRISTOWN Herald

It was a happy thought on the part of the management of the Norristown hospital for the insane to have patients employed in the work of road construction. The exercise is beneficial to those who can be induced to assist in roadbuilding. As a sanitary measure there is nothing to be compared to active labor in the open air. It is probable that a majority of the male inmates of the institution might be employed in such labor with positive benefit to themselves.

Judge Decided in Newspaper's Favor.

A Kentucky newspaper recently brought suit against a subscriber to recover subscription money due for many years. The paper was sent to the subscriber's father and after the latter's death, was continued, after repeated requests to stop it. In deciding the case in favor of the newspaper, the judge held that a paper that was read would have to be paid for and that the stopping of the paper did not release the receiver of the paper from the debt.

—A few evenings ago as Mrs. A. J. Shook of Spring Mills was returning home a shot fired close to the road frightened her horse which at once broke into a mad gallop. The heroic driver managed to keep the frightened animal in the road until in front of her home where the buggy was upset, throwing her out. Dr. Braucht was hastily summoned and found her condition not serious, although she was badly bruised. The buggy was completely wrecked.

FALL OPENING DISPLAY OF PIANOS.

Our most interesting display of all the latest designs of High Grade Pianos as well as Organs in piano case, chapel and parlor style, a showing which has never been equaled here, which means it will be well worth seeing.

PUSHING UP BUSINESS

by pushing down prices is the one way to succeed, so long as merit is not sacrificed. We think we have attained "the golden means" by keeping up quality in Pianos and giving prices a gentle push downward. You won't think it—you'll know it when you see and hear our instruments and learn our prices.

We offer this week a number of excellent Pianos just returned from rent. They were new when they went out and have been in use only a few months. A special price will be made on them.

We have also a large line of all the well known makes of Organs at special bargains, $15.00, $20.00, $25.00 and upwards suited for homes and school purposes. Organs to rent at moderate prices. Call or address

DER PENNSYLVANIER

Mischter Druder! — Wann ich net letz bin, dann segt es ergedswo in d'r Biwel, daß es allezeit arme Leit gewe hät un gewe werd. Un sell is wohr. Un es is ah wohr, daß es allezeit Narre gewe hot un gewe werd. Es is awer en Fätt, daß Leit, was vun Natur aus dumme Esel sen, net verrickt werre, oder wann se dhune, dann merkt es Niemand. Juscht die, was iwergescheid sen, schnappe gern iwer. So lang se sich behähfe un for anner Menschе kee Gefahr sen, loßt mer se rumlahfe, bekohs, es gebt gar net Narrehäuser genug for alle Narre eizusperre.

Bei uns howe is en Kerl, seller nemmt Watsches. Er hot kerzlich in en Zeiting gedhu, daß alle Leit närrisch wäre un er war Narr genug, derfor zu bezahle. Er meent, nau wär en gute Zeit, die Narre zu organeise, en regler Narre-Sofeiety ufzumache, un er wär schuhr, des nei Sofeiety kennt in weniger wie gar kee Zeit en hunnertdaused Members hawe. Es will mir scheine, der Kerl belangt zum Kappe-Trust un is aus for Bisnis. Sofeiety-Narre sotte ah en regler Narrekapp drage un do gäb's dann schun for en Start en ganzer neiser Conträkt. Verleicht denkt Ihr, Mischter Drucker, des wär en närrischer Spaß, awer Ihr wißt, daß nix so närrisch is, daß es net Gefalle findt. So war es dann do vergange am Samschdag in d'r Zeiting geweßt, daß am Sundag Nochmittag im Busch, net weit vum Städtel, en Narre-Mieting soll gehalte werre. Es hot derbei gestanne, daß es Lunsch un Bier gewe dät. So ebbes ziegt, un es war en gute Kraud hiegange. Es war en kleener Ständ ufgestellt un d'r Narre-König is nufgesteppt un hot sei Spietsch angefange. Bal hot's gerufe: „Mer sen vorschtig!" un d'r gute Mann, for Niemand zu disappointe, hot emol d'r Spigget un Mället gewiese, Lunsch ausgepadt, so as wie Brod, Knackworscht, Limburger un dergleiche, un eem vun die Unnernarre gesaht, er sot en Fässel rausrolle. Seller is en bissel abseits in d'r Busch nei, wo am Owed vorher drei Fässer Bier sen verstedt worre. Bal is er zurickkumme un mit eme Gesicht wie siewe Dag Regewetter segt er: „Großer König un Narr! des Bier is fort!" Des hot awer en Gedrisch gewe, as wann d'r ganz Busch voll Inschings geweßt wär un d'r Narrekönig hot sei eege Wort net meh versteh kenne. En Narrheet mit blenty Bier hätte die Leit sich gefalle losse, awer ohne Bier war ihne des Ding zu drocke. En Kraud junge Kerls, was meh gewißt hen vun sellem Bier, as wie se gesaht hen, hen den Narrekönig so arg getiest, daß er ufgepackt hot un fortgezotteit is. Eb er awer gange is, hot er gesaht, daß bal wieder en Mieting soll gehalte werre, daß awer dann die Arrenschments ganz annerscht sei werre un daß er expette bät, zwanzigdaused Narre bei sich zu hawe. Mittlerweil wot er browiere auszufinne, wer so verrickt geweßt wär, des Bier zu stehle.

Nau, des is alles grad so gehäppent, wie ich's do geschriewe hab. Is es net merkwerrig, was es for Narre uf d'r Welt gebt? Schuhr genug, alle Leit hen ihr Kehpers oder wie der Dichter sich so schee ausdrickt:

Es hot en Jeder in d'r Welt
Datt so en Extra-Sparre,
Un wann mer's Lichtel nächer hält,
So sen mir alle Narre;—

awer desseiwege brauche wir net zu organeise, so zu sage en Narre-Unien ufzumache. Wann en Jeder ehrlich bemieht is, uf sei eegene Faust Dummheete zu mache, dann gebt's Narrestreech genug—ohne Unien. Un wann gesaht werd, die Narre däte die Wohret sage, so kann sell uns nix datte, bekohs noch dem neie pennsylvanische Gesetz derf mer die Wohret net meh in die Zeiting dhun.—

Die junge Mäd aus d'r Sitty, was im Summer uf's Land kumme, hen ah ihr Narrheet. Se froge die junge Kerls for en baar Hoor aus ihrem Mustäsch, so daß se en Zahnbersicht mache losse kennte. D'r Dschannie Schmohker, was sich so viel eingebildt hot uf sei gränder Mustäsch, hot nau uf d'r eene Seit juscht noch elf Hoor un uf d'r annere dreizehe—des is, wie ich ihn des letscht Mol gesehne hab, un d'r Billy Hibsch guckt as wie geschähft—die Mäd hen ihm alles abgeleckt. Narrheet is allrecht, awer es muß Methode drei sei, wie unser Schulmeeschter segt. Selle zwee dumme Jockel finne ersicht aus, was se gedhu hen, wann se bei unsere Mäd wieder anfroge.

D'r Hansjörg.

Hayes—Conner.

A wedding which will interest many Bellefonte people took place in the First Methodist church at Altoona Wednesday evening. In speaking of it the Altoona Tribune says:

The auditorium and altar were decorated for the occasion with palms and potted plants and they lent beauty to the occasion. The contracting parties were Miss Mary Coulbourne Conner, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Benjamin C. Conner, and Dr. William Van Valzah Hayes of New York city. The bridal party entered the church at 8 o'clock to a wedding march rendered by Miss Harriet Baker Gibson. The groom and his best man, Mr. Alfred Hayes, Jr., of New York, entered and advanced to the altar by the right aisle. The ushers, Matthew Cowden Hayes, of Lewisburg, Pa., Dr. William Seaman Bainbridge, of New York city; Mr. William L. Thatcher, of Ojai Valley, Cal,; Mr. H. W. Georgi. of Jamestown, N. Y.; and the bridesmaids, Miss Blanche M. Conner, of Altoona; Miss E. Beulah Hayes, of Lewisburg; Miss Jessie J. Gore, of Baltimore, and Miss Martha B. Bowman, the maid of honor, Miss Frances R. Conner, sister of the bride, and the bride, slowly marched up the left aisle. At the altar the contracting parties met and were united with an impressive ceremony by the bride's father, Rev. Benjamin C. Conner. It was witnessed by several hundred people and at its conclusion the happy couple were showered with congratulations.

The bridal party adjourned to the parsonage where a luncheon was served.

The bride is a most amiable and cultured young lady and popular in a wide circle of friends and this was attested by the numerous handsome and beautiful gifts she received. They consisted of silver, cut glass, china and bric-a-brac The groom is a son of Mr and Mrs. Alfred Hayes, of Lewisburg, and is a rising and promising physician located in New York city. Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hayes, Mr. J Foster Van Valzah, of Lewisburg; Mr. William Hayes, of Winona, Minn.; Mrs. Charlotte Hepburn Slate, of Williamsport, and Miss Harriet H. Parker, of Lewistown.

Dr. and Mrs. Hayes, after an extended honeymoon in the east, will take up their residence in New York city.

Ticket Scalpers Brought to Account.

The Pennsylvania railroad has inaugurated a fight against scalpers and others who by the means of forgeries and erasures, have altered tickets issued over the company's lines. The company claims it has suffered greatly during the present excursion season. General Passenger Agent Boyd has issued a circular to ticket receivers, conductors and ticket examiners calling their attention to the forgeries and instructing them to take up all altered tickets when presented.

Rooster Caring for Brood of Turkeys.

The strange sight of a rooster taking care of a brood of young turkeys can be seen on the farm of A. S. Greenwalt, at Kempton, Berks county. The old hen, tiring of her young, left them, when the old rooster took up the motherly duties that the hen had abandoned. During the day the rooster hunts food for the turkeys, calling the little turkeys when he finds a dainty morsel. When evening comes the turkeys, as many as can, get under the protecting wings of the rooster.

BACK GIVES OUT.

Plenty of Bellefonte Readers Have This Experience.

You tax the kidneys-overwork them.

They can't keep up the continual strain

The back gives out-it aches and pains;

Urinary troubles set in

Don't wait longer—take Doan's Kidney Pills.

Bellefonte people tell you how they act

Geo. Cox residing on what is known as Half Moon Hill says; "I can conscientiously recommend Doan's Kidney Pills judging from what they did for me. I suffered intensely from pains in my back and lameness across my kidneys. Statements in this paper about Doan's Kidney Pills attracted my attention and I called at F. Potts Green's drug store and got a box. They did me a great deal of good although I did not take them as regularly as I should for the moment the pains ceased and I felt better I stopped taking them. They gave me the greatest relief and I can give them the credit of saving me much suffering".

Mrs. Mary Ward Dead.

Mrs. Mary Ward widow of the late Joseph Ward of Pine Grove Mills died Thursday at her home mentioned above. Her death was due to old age, she having reached her 77th year. Her life has been one of service and devotion to her God, home and children. Many deeds of kindness she performed which will always be remembered. She leaves the following children to mourn her death. Dr. J. E. Ward of Bellefonte, J. Herbert Ward, William B. Lacetta, Mary, Clara all of Pine Grove Mills, Mrs. Agusta King, of Altoona, G. W. Ward, of Pittsburg, Dr. I. C. Ward of Shamokin, and J. A. Ward of Salina Kansas. The funeral took place Sunday morning at 10 o'clock from her late home. Interment in the Pine Grove cemetery.

Suicides on "Blue Monday."

A scientist who has made a study of suicides has discovered that more women commit suicide on Monday than on any other day of the week.

Monday, "Blue Monday," as it has long been called, is one of the most trying days of the week for women who are housewives, principally because it is "wash day." Breakfast is usually served earlier than on other days and more hastily prepared. The children are early hurried off to school and dinner is often "picked up." "Blue Monday" is the one day in the week when a housewife's troubles, hard work and annoyances seem to come all at once. Hence the significant name for the first working day of the week.

QUEER LYCOMING COUNTY JUSTICE.

The Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin says: In the case of the S. P. C. A. against Herman Schreck, before 'Squire Davis at Allenwood yesterday, the defendant was discharged. Special Officer Behm and Attorney C. L. Peaslee, of this city represented the S. P. C. A., and the officer said last night that although he had a good case against Schreck, who was charged with pulling out the tongue of a horse near Allenwood, in the information it read "cutting out," and the 'squire decided that cutting was not maiming and discharged the defendant. Officer Behm also said that the defendant owned up to him to pulling out the tongue. It is said that Schreck will be re-arrested and taken before another justice.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and dollar sizes are sold by all good druggists.

THE BULGARIAN CAPITAL.

Sofia a Bright and Bustling Town That Suggests Paris.

A wide, smiling valley, and, far beyond, the steep incline of an endless mountain range, the Vitosch chain, still snow capped when we saw it against a bright blue sky, while nearer the earth was clad with a cloak of the softest verdure, a lush green seeming to round the contours of outline here and there. Such, says the Pall Mall Gazette, was the first impression of the panoramic setting within which we found enshrined Sofia, the Bulgarian capital, from which source many of the reports of the recent massacres in Macedonia reach the public. It is as bright and modern looking a little town as, say, Baden-Baden, and indeed more reminiscent of some small German residenz stadt in style and structure than anything one generally associates mentally with the near east. Two days are, of course, not much in which to judge of any place. It is merely the obvious then that strikes the visitor's eye and is retained upon his mental retina, and therefore to our mind the name of Sofia is lastingly associated with sundry broad and shady streets, boulevards beneath which we watched with untiring interest the constant flow of traffic, the coming and going of soldiers, mondaines, peasantry and curious semioriental figures.

It was late spring, and the sun's heat had something of the coming summer in it, yet these stolid, slowly moving figures wore their fur caps and long skin coats, of which the sheep's wool turned inward forms the lining. Most of them led their oxen, harnessed to cumbrous carts, while again near these the smart electric trams whizzed by—a strange and incongruous mixture of the east and west. The most picturesque element in the street traffic was the peasant women, many of the girls being quite beautiful, their garments gay with red and blue embroideries and their persons loaded with barbaric looking silver ornaments, silver coins even glinting here and there amid their long, thick raven plaits. Another touch of color was given to this scene by the numerous different uniforms which distinguished le militaire, the general appearance of which reminds one of the Russian military dress, although the men seemed of a better physique, generally speaking. Toward evening this picture became even more animated, for the inhabitants of Sofia love the open air. The cafes and restaurants then assume the aspect of some lesser Paris, pretty faces, elegant toilets, music and laughter dominating the scene in the smartest town quarter.

FLYNT'S BIOGRAPHY.

Author of Books on Tramps Sends Data to Northwestern University.

Josiah Flynt, the writer on tramps, has sent a novel and characteristic letter to the Northwestern academy at Chicago. The academy faculty is getting ready to publish a record of its alumni and to collect the necessary data has sent a list of questions to former students asking them to fill out the blanks and return, says the Chicago Record-Herald. Flynt, whose real name is Frank Willard, made reply to the several questions as follows:

Full name: Josiah Flynt, alias Frank Willard.

Post office address: Still to be decided upon.

Period of attendance at academy: Forgotten. I was generally in swimming or running away.

Place where other preparatory studies were pursued: In the world at large.

Degrees taken: Past master in the art of tramping.

Place where professional studies were pursued: Berlin, Germany, and on the road.

Give residence and occupation since leaving academy: (1) Wherever I have been able to get a few pennies together. (2) Doing as little as possible of anything which I did not like.

Civil offices held: I was once the shortest policeman in a police service.

Full name of wife: I expect that my wife's name will be Willard if I can ever find her.

Full names of children, with dates of birth: Impossible to report on this matter.

Mr. Willard is a nephew of Frances E. Willard.

Large Wheat Acreage In Kansas.

Kansas farmers are sowing 20 per cent more wheat than last fall, when the total acreage was 5,200,000, says a Topeka special to the New York Times. This year's wheat crop, as shown by the thrashers' returns, is nearly 100,000,000 bushels and will add to the farmers' surplus $50,000,000.

Military Watchdogs.

The military posts at the German naval port of Wilhelmshaven are fitted out with watchdogs. Each sentry has one dog by the leash and lets it loose when suspicious people refuse to stop.

Blind Fish Now See.

In a cave in Silesia a pool was filled with sightless fish. About a year ago the place was utilized as a store, when the electric light was installed. Since then many of the fish have actually developed normal looking optics. Formerly when the cave was pitch dark the eyes of the creatures were covered with a thick film.

AN IDEAL GRANGE HALL.

Its Size, General Plan and Equipment Described.

[Special Correspondence.]

Since years of experience have developed the real home work of the grange the up to date grange hall must conform to the demands of such progress. For years it has been conceded to be of benefit if the subordinate grange had in its own name and control a place called "home." Because of the grange confining its membership to those chiefly interested in agricultural pursuits this home naturally locates itself out in the country. That it may represent the grange to the passerby the surrounding grounds should be ample for sheds for horses, with a good variety of trees and a lawn to accommodate gatherings of people as occasion may require. The entire outside premises should be kept in an inviting condition.

As to the grange hall itself, the outside design should be in harmony with the uses for which it is built, and this suggests a harmonizing of both church and schoolhouse architecture. To meet all requirements the building should be at least 24 by 60 feet on the ground, with eighteen foot posts on the sides. This will permit the lower part of the building to be eight feet from floor to ceiling and leave nine foot sides for the upper room, which, with an arched ceiling from a system of collar joists, will give a good effect. The lower part of the hall should be divided to accommodate hallway, entrance, kitchen, stairway and a large assembly room, which is also suitable for a banquet hall, and, inasmuch as children under fourteen years of age must now be provided for, this room becomes a very proper place for them, and during the lecturer's hour they can sit with their parents in the grange. This large room below, being warm and light, is very convenient for all members in which to hang their wraps on hook rails around the outer walls. Still further, this large lower room can be used for all common entertainments, and especially is it suitable for this when it has a platform or stage at one end, with suitable scenery.

The upper story of the building should be divided into stair landing, anteroom, property closet, a nursery and the grange hall proper. While the lower rooms should have naked floors, the stairway and all floors above should be carpeted and the grange hall should have finished and decorated walls and be as well furnished as the sitting room of a well to do farmer's home. Annexes for libraries and court scenes should also be provided. Such a grange building will cost about $1,000 to $1,200.

A grange contemplating the building of a hall or home of this kind can start with the following subscription list:

"We, the undersigned members of ——— grange, agree to give the amounts of hand labor, team labor, material and money set opposite our respective names for the purpose of building a grange hall at such place and time and in accordance with such plans as the grange may specify."

Such a subscription will give a start which, in the hands of a good building committee, can be made to go a long way toward securing the desired object. It is generally necessary to lend a few hundred dollars to finish and furnish, all of which can be paid off with suppers and entertainments of various kinds.

It will be noted that in planning the rooms the children and babes are provided for. This is to encourage the mothers to go to the grange. The children, woven into the lecturer's hour programme, make the ideal entertainment. Where the children are thus well cared for the parents will become interested. GEORGE B. HORTON.

Importance of the Grange.

The system of grange work is so broad and so varied and so excellent in its conception that it appeals to the practical common sense, good judgment and interest of all law abiding rural citizens, and it has awakened the well wishes of all classes of people throughout our land. Its conception is grand, its precepts pure, its teachings true, its efforts high, its motives noble, and its plans are wise. Such an organization cannot fail in its endeavor, and it will attract the best and noblest to its support. The grange is a character builder, a home maker, an educator and a social benefactor. It is very closely connected with the home, the church and the school, the four forming one vast intellectual chain which brings us the richest fruits of our land.—Michigan Patron.

The Grange In New Zealand.

E. W. Westgate, master Kansas state grange, has received a letter from the United States consul at Auckland, New Zealand, asking in behalf of prominent agriculturists there a copy of the constitution and bylaws of his state grange. It seems from this that the grange has already reached around the globe.

A Pomona's Lofty Ideals.

A recent meeting of the Chautauqua county (N. Y.) Pomona grange was held in the Volusia M. E. church at an altitude of 1,557 feet, says an exchange. The response to the address of welcome was made by Louis McKinstry, editor of the Fredonia Censor, first lecturer of the first grange ever regularly organized.

THE VARIOUS CROPS.

Monthly Report of the Chief of the Bureau of Statistics.

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 12.—The monthly report of the chief of the bureau of statistics of the department of agriculture will show the condition of corn on September 10 to have been 80.1, as compared with 78 7 on August 1, 1903 84.3 on September 1, 1902, and a ten year average of 79.3

The average condition of tobacco on September 1 was 83.4 against 82.9 one month ago and 85.1 on July 1, 1903.

In a Chinese School.

To learn to read and write in China means about as much work for the youngster who undertakes it as mastering five or six languages, such as English, French and German. To begin with, the Chinese language has no alphabet. Every character used stands for a word. There is not even any way of telling the sound of a word except by hearing it pronounced by the teacher. To learn to read means that the small student must be able to understand thousands of these different characters at sight, and pronounce them according to the local dialect.

As a rule a Chinese school is not divided into classes. Each scholar has his separate lesson, consisting of a number of lines to be learned "by heart." He has to study aloud and, in consequence, the noise in a Chinese schoolroom would drive the average American teacher frantic. At first the pupil does not understand any of the words he learns by rote. The meanings are all explained to him later on. This is the kind of school that in China keeps seven days in the week, with very few holidays throughout the year.

THEIR FIRST CONVENTION.

Philippine and China War Veterans in Session at Altoona.

Two hundred delegates, and as many other members of the order who are not delegates, of the society of the American Veterans of the Philippine and China wars were in attendance at a convention of that society at Altoona during the past week.

The public meeting Thursday was full of interest. Mayor Hoyer's welcome address was a timely one. Judge Bell also made a short welcome address and National Commander Hansbury replied briefly. He was followed by Herbert O. Kelley, of Altoona.

At the business session Thursday afternoon a committee was appointed to draw up a resolution amending the constitution to the effect that all American soldiers who have seen foreign service—whether in Cuba, Porto Rico, Hawaii, Philippines or China, or anywhere else—will be entitled to membership, but the name of the society to remain unchanged. This committee presented its report and the resolution was adopted unanimously.

As a result of this action many veterans' societies from Western Pennsylvania and Ohio are expected to merge with the general organization in a very short time. This will make the membership of the order at least 10,000 within the next year.

The Society of American Veterans of the Philippine and China Wars was organized in Philadelphia, January 24, 1902, with a charter membership of 151. The society is composed of honorably discharged soldiers and sailors of the army and navy, and marine corps, of the United States who served in the Philippine and China wars.

The objects of this association are to preserve and strengthen fraternity among its membership, assist worthy comrades and their widows and orphans, to perpetuate the memory and history of American dead, and to maintain true allegiance to the United States of America and fidelity to its constitution and laws. Its membership today is nearly 5,000 men, while 195,000 more are eligible.

Tennis Finals Are Being Played.

As the tennis tournament is nearing the end much interest is being manifested as to who will win the cup trophies.

Thursday afternoon the semi-finals were played. In the double game Blanchard and Ray, of Bellefonte, defeated Fredericks and Troxell, of Lock Haven, 6-0, 6-2.

In the singles Gephart, of Bellefonte, beat Kistler of Lock Haven, 6-1, 6-4; Hayes beat Cushing, 6-0, 6-0, and Armstrong was victorious over Gephart, 7-5, 7-5.

This left Armstrong and Hayes to play off in the final singles Friday, and Blanchard and Ray against Hayes and Kistler in the final doubles to determine the winners of the cups.

Since the above was in type we learn that Irving Armstrong won the singles and the cup, beating Max Hayes. Sedgwick Kistler and Max Hayes defended and held the cup for doubles against Edmund Blanchard and Horton S. Ray. The tournament wound up with a dance at Lock Haven Friday night. Those from here who attended were Messrs Tom Beaver, Hardman P. Harris, Mac Curtin, John Munson, Wilson Gephart, Ned Blanchard and H. S. Ray.

One-Legged Engineer Resigns

Frank Kolley, aged 69 years, the only one-legged man employed as a locomotive engineer by the Pennsylvania railroad, resigned after working fifty years for the company. He lost his leg in a wreck thirty-nine years ago. Though well preserved and evidently capable of holding his position for many years to come, Mr. Kolley thought he had worked long enough and will now settle down to a quiet life in his comfortable home at Altoona. He is probably the only engineer in the employ of the company who retained his position after losing a leg. He is a native of Prussia, but came to this country when 18 years of age.

Early Morning Wedding.

At six o'clock on Tuesday morning a very quiet wedding took place at the home of F. O. Hosterman at Millheim. The contracting parties were F. O. Hosterman and Miss Lizzie Winegardner and the ceremony was performed by Rev. B. R. M. Sheeder, of the Lutheran church. After the ceremony the bridal party took the morning train for a wedding trip to the eastern part of the state. May their married life be a long and happy one.

Young Men's Christian Association Men Fish and Preach in Lumber Camps.

A party of Philadelphia Association men, under the leadership of their versatile secretary, has just returned from the lumber region in Potter County, Pennsylvania, where they have been enjoying a two weeks vacation and holding services among the lumbermen employed in the three camps in that county. The men went in at their own expense, enjoyed their vacation in rough camp headquarters, spent their days in fishing and recreation and in the evenings in giving concerts and holding popular services with the lumbermen, who have little to vary the monotony of their hard work, except by such "talent" as is native in the gang in which there may be some one who plays a violin, a concertina or a jews-harp, or has a repertoire of popular, topical or plantation songs. The men from the Young Men's Christian Association are good musicians, can tell a good story, sing a popular song as well as a gospel song, and while they are not preachers, are used to conducting services and addressing men in a way that men understand.

A special correspondent writes from camp, "The visitors first took dinner with the men of one camp and showed by their appetites and table manners that they were neither angels or professional evangelists. The first formal visit to the camp was a social song, popular songs in chorus, solos by the visitors and lumbermen, jokes and stories by everybody who could chip in, and a general good time in which a few gospel songs were not out of place. On the way to the camp, a party of lumbermen was met, bound for the Association camp, who thought that the plan had been for them to go to the meeting rather than for the meeting to come to them, and they said they were bound not to miss it. All the later meetings except one, when a reception was given the lumbermen by the visitors at their tent, were more distinctly religious, and a colored cook proved to be a gospel soloist. Several men developed unexpected talent, and all contributed to the general impression felt by the lumbermen, that these young men who were out for a vacation, had a kind of Christianity that they could appreciate." These camps are manned chiefly by young men—strong, husky Americans, unmarried and no more virtuous than single men in barracks are reputed to be. More open-hearted hospitality than is manifested in the lumber camps would be hard to find anywhere, and the direct religious service was as acceptable as the entertainment.

It looks as if this kind o' vacation party would be undertaken by the Association of Pennsylvania under the direction of their State Committee, more extensively next summer, and quite possibly in the Christmas vacation.

BRIEF MENTION

—Oysters are now in season.

—Beware of the man who calls to fix your type writing machine Nine times out of ten he will spoil it for you.

—The Epworth League convention of the Fourth Sub-district will be held in the M. E. church, Howard, October 1 and 2. An excellent program is being arranged.

—Dill Confer, of Eagleville, was arrested Saturday and taken before Squire Keichline charged with shooting a squirrel out of season. He was found guilty and fined $17.75.

—The fellow who looks for results from a single insertion of an advertisement would probably set a hen on Saturday and expect spring chicken for dinner Sunday.—Falls Creek Herald.

—Houtzdale feels her growth and announces, through her town paper, that there have recently been added to their industries another butcher shop, a third dental parlor and an additional barber shop.

—The son who rises in the world is the one who takes an interest in the success of his employer's business, and does his work because it needs to be done, and not simply because he is desirous of putting in the time with the least amount of fatigue.

—John Sucklin, a former burgess of Hollidaysburg, dropped dead there Monday aged 77 years. Mr. Sucklin was a leading figure in the Knights of Labor movement in Central Pennsylvania and was a candidate for auditor general of the state and for Congress on the People's party ticket.

—Ireland will take an important part in the St. Louis exposition. Sir Thomas Lipton is at the head of a company of gentlemen who are preparing one of the most comprehensive exhibits ever made by the Emerald Isle. This exhibit is quite distinct from the "Irish Village," which is a feature of "The Pike" street of concessions.

—The Centre Hall evaporating company will not open the evaporating plants at Centre Hall and Coburn on account of the scarcity of apples and the low price offered for the evaporated stock in New York. New York and some other apple growing States have large crops, which is the cause of the price of evaporated stock being abnormally low. The apple crop in Penns Valley is much below the average.

—David R. Richardson, a lifelong resident of Martha, Centre county, died at his home there Wednesday evening from typhoid fever. He had so far recovered from the disease that good hopes for his returning to perfect health were entertained, but he took a relapse a few days ago which proved fatal. A son, Samuel Richardson, had nursed his father through his early illness, and on Saturday returned to work in Westmoreland county. Wednesday evening he arrived at the parental home suffering from the same disease. One daughter and seven sons, with their mother, survive, two of whom, Budd and William, reside in Tyrone. The deceased was aged about 52 years.

—Among a train load of excursionists going to Niagara Falls last Friday was a wealthy woman from Washington, D. C. who lost a diamond ring on the way and at Emporium made the fact known to the conductor who on his return trip made inquiry of the station master at Williamsport and was told that the ring had been found. The excursion train had stopped twenty minutes at Williamsport, and during that time the Washington woman had left the train and gone to the toilet room in the station. Shortly after the train had departed the woman in charge of the toilet room found a diamond ring on the washstand She promptly handed the gem over to Superintendent Lincoln and the latter sent it to the owner, to whom it is now close up to for a nice present to the woman at Williamsport.

—Never in the history of the Pennsylvania State College has there been such a rush of students to that institution as this fall. It is said that there have been over six hundred applicants for the Freshman class which is a large increase over all former years. The college being without a large hotel, it has become a serious question where to put the many students who are seeking admission to this institution. There is no question that a large hotel with ample accommodations for students will be erected there during the coming year which will take the place of the University Inn which was destroyed by fire several months ago. But to meet the present necessity about seventy-five students will board and room among the good people of Pine Grove Mills which is only a short distance from the college. It is a pleasant little town and the boys can study and have their fun just as well there as if they were at a fraternity house at the college.

—Do you notice the days growing shorter?

—Seventeen murderers at large in Schuykill county.

—The University Extension idea is gaining ground in Bellefonte.

—The venerable Daniel Irvin, who is in his 85th year, is quite ill at his home in Julian.

—The Bellefonte Republican will be sent to any address from now until Jan 1, 1904 for 25 cents.

—Mr. and Mrs. Nelson E. Robb are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine baby boy at their home on Sunday.

—Marius Miner was appointed postmaster at Howard during the past week to succeed W. E. Confer.

—During the past month 3,500 dozens of axes were shipped from the Mill Hall factories; beating all previous records in output.

—Unless frost comes unusually late there will be a great quantity of soft corn this fall. There are many fields in which the corn has not reached the glazing stage.

—A slick individual taking orders for Wanamaker & Brown clothing and who collects a few dollars after the measure is taken, is wanted in several adjoining counties.

—Of the expense incurred in improving a road under the new road law, the state bears two-thirds, the county one-sixth and the township one-sixth, payable in cash.

—The new pipe organ for the Reformed church has arrived and will soon be placed in position. It cost $1,500, half of the amount being donated by Andrew Carnegie. It was made by an Ohio firm.

—Mr. William B. Jackson, a graduate of the College in the class of '90, the son of Mrs. Josiah Jackson of State College, was married in Pittsfield, Mass., on Thursday, Sept. 3rd, to Miss Isabelle West, of that place.

—"Vernice Hal", the pacing horse owned by W. V. Larimer, of this place, took first money in the five-heat race at Port Royal Thursday. The race was in the 2:25 class. We congratulate Mr. Larimer on owning such a valuable horse.

—Lightning struck the electric light wires at the Bush House Thursday night and set fire to the mosquite netting around the chandelier in the office. It created lots of excitement but the fire was extinguished with out further damage.

—The editor of a neighboring exchange says that one of his subscribers looked through the Bible to find scripture to justify him in using tobacco and found but one passage. It is found in the last chapter of Revelations and is the second sentence of the eleventh verse.

—James Wolfenden, of Lamar, has been ordered by his company to proceed to State College to install two new boilers of the Babcock & Wilcox make. They are of 200 h. p. each and will be added to the battery already in use to supply the growing institution with heat, power and light.

—There was a large audience present in Petrikin Hall Thursday evening to listen to the lecture by Miss Belle Kearney, of Mississippi, and to enjoy the musical program. The lecture was a success in every particular and was highly enjoyed as was also the musical program.

—The post office at Oak Hall station changed hands Monday evening of last week when William Close took up the reins of the post office again and Miss Anna Kline retired from the service, after acting assistant for her father, the late George Kline. After his demise she became post mistress and has managed the office up to the present time.

—The marriage of J. Cloyd Brooks and Miss Anna G. Breon, both of Centre Hall, took place at the Methodist parsonage, Spring Mills, Wednesday evening of last week, the ceremony being performed by Rev. George W. McIlnay. These young people have this paper's best wishes for a long life and prosperity. They are industrious and highly respected. Next spring Mr. and Mrs Brooks will occupy the farm of J. W. Conley, east of Centre Hall.

—Porter Hutchison, an unmarried man somewhat matured in life, attempted to take his own life on Sunday morning at the home of his sister, Mrs George Bergantz in Huntingdon. Mr. Hutchison a few moments before this rash act was tried, took a walk out from the house and sat down under a tree. He took out his pen knife and slashed himself in the neck repeatedly. His sister saw him and ran to rescure him from himself. It is thought he will recover.

—Mr. Thomas A. Shoemaker entertained a party of gentlemen at dinner at his home Thursday evening. It was in honor of Mr. George L. Potter, 3rd vice president of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, who arrived in town in his private car Thursday morning in order to be here for the dinner. The guests were Geo. L. Potter, Jas. H. Potter, C. M. McCurdy, Rev. Geo. I. Brown, John Blanchard Esq., Col. W. Fred Reynolds, H. E. Fenlon, Harry Keller Esq., Jno. M. Shugert, Joseph L. Montgomery and Edward L. Hoy.

—There are 700,000 acres of land in Russia devoted to the cultivation of sunflowers, and from their seed 200,000,000 pounds of good oil are expressed. This enters into manufactures, and is used as an adulterant. The fact that it is carried on so extensively shows that the industry is a profitable one. If it is profitable there; we can conceive no reason why it should not prove profitable here also. Our Government has brought forward almost every industry that is practiced in the outside world and placed its advantages before our people, but we do not remember that it ever put the sunflower oil industry before them.

Both Mistaken.

An Irish merchant who had more money in his pocket than his appearance denoted, took a seat in a first-class carriage. A dandy fellow passenger was much annoyed at Pat's presence, and, missing his handkerchief, taxed him with having picked his pocket. After recovering his handkerchief, which he had put in his hat, he made a lame apology, but Pat stopped him with the remark: Make yourself easy, darlint; don't bother about the matter. You took me for a thafe, I took you for a gentleman. We were both of us mistaken, that's all, me honey.

—The Katydids are already here several weeks earlier than usual. There is a popular belief that the first frost will occur exactly six weeks following their appearance.

—There will be a re-union of the Hazel—Sheffer families at Penns Cave September 23. It will be a basket picnic and the families and all their friends are invited.
